I can’t believe it, but it has been approximately six months since you elected me as President of the KWVA. Six extremely fast, furious, busy, interesting, exciting, trying, sometimes exciting, sometimes disappointing six months. Regardless, I thank you again for your trust in me by electing me to this important office.

We have been busy, to say the least. I’ll start with some exciting things. On Veterans Day my wife and I were invited to breakfast with the President and his wife. Of course, we weren’t the only people there. At least a hundred others were in attendance. Whatever your political views may be, it is quite an honor and privilege to visit the White House.

After breakfast we were transported to the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington Cemetery. I was escorted to the stage at the amphitheater along with several other heads of VSOs, e.g., CINC of the VFW, American Legion, Jewish War Veterans, Catholic War Veterans, POW and so on—about a dozen in all. We were seated in line with President Obama while he gave the keynote speech. Approximately 5,000 people were in attendance. It was a moving experience.

After President Obama presented a wreath at the tomb, I, along with Larry Kinard, our First VP, Director Tom McHugh, and Carmen Zeolla, a member of my chapter, presented a wreath at the tomb. That was a great experience. During this ceremony Larry Kinard and Carmen Zeolla were flag bearers. All in all, a great day.

Another once-in-a-lifetime experience came as a result of the efforts of the Department of Defense to honor the Korean War veterans on the 60th anniversary of the signing of the armistice. My wife and I were invited to ride on a float the DOD built for the Rose Bowl Parade. This was awesome, albeit extremely tiring. Can you imagine one million people waving at you as you pass by on a magnificent float that was a replica of our national memorial in Washington DC? I can assure you my arm is still sore.

I thank General Walter “Skip” Sharp and Col. David Clark of the DOD for this wonderful tribute to us as Korean War veterans.

One more great thing, but just as exciting and wonderful, occurred. My wife and I were invited by Col. Clark and the DOD to be guests at West Point Military Academy for the Army vs. Temple football game. The DOD bused in several Korean War veterans from the New York-New Jersey-Pennsylvania area under the supervision of our National Director, Sal Scarlato. That was another great honor for Korean War veterans.

As you know, President Obama has proclaimed that 2013 is the year of the Korean War veteran, which accounts for all these events. The big one is coming up in Washington DC in July of this year. An explanation of this is published in this edition of The Graybeards. I urge all of you to join us in Washington for the 60th anniversary. I will talk more about this event later in this message.

I know this all sounds like fun—and some of it is—but the main point is that all of these events are good for the KWVA. We are getting big press coverage and a lot of exposure to the media. I receive letters, calls and email from all over the world about who we are. This is all good for our recruiting efforts.

Suffice it to say, I have not lost my enthusiasm for the basic things that you elected me to do. Along with Sonny Edwards and Tom Stevens, we are constantly coming up with new ideas for recruiting. We did get a kick in the you know what when HR 5903 died with the last Congress. However, we are introducing a new one. I have no doubt that it will pass, since it has absolutely no objectors. All we need is get it on the floor. I have appointed Charley Price as our National Liaison to Congress. With his experience, I am sure we will be successful in getting this passed.

I am still working on ways to make The Graybeards self supporting. The South Korean government cannot help us out in this matter. I understand why, and I am not upset. We are working on other means to make this happen.

Now let’s talk about the 60th anniversary event in Washington DC this summer. I appointed Warren Weidhahn as chairman of this committee. He is working extremely hard on this project and has my complete cooperation. Warren and I are working closely with the DoD the South Korean Embassy to make sure this is an event we will never forget.

We have had several meetings in Washington with General Sharp, Col. Clark, Major General Lee of the Embassy, and several people representing the VFW, American Legion, POW Association, and many others. I am sure we will have more. There are still many things to be ironed out to make this an extraordinary event. The basic information that you need right now to be part of this is published in this edition of The Graybeards.

I urge all of you to begin plans to attend now. We have a limited amount of rooms at the Sheraton Pentagon hotel, so make your reservations now. I wish we could publish all of the events, but I know we will not have them all decided.

From the Secretary

Death Of A Friend
I received notice today of the passing of a great friend and a hero of the Korean War, Lee Dauster. Lee lost a leg in combat while serving in Korea, but that did not interfere with his continuing service in support of the military.

I met Lee when he served as a Director of the KWVA. We immediately became very close friends, maybe because I had a grandson in the Marines.

Lee had a computerized prosthesis that he was really proud of, and he was able to maneuver better than some of the other veterans who still had both legs. He will be missed and our prayers go out to his family.

One will never find another person like Lee Dauster.

Mining The Minutes
I am going to be selfish for this issue and talk about myself. As most of you probably do not know, one of my many jobs is to condense the various verbatim minutes so that the important content can be published in The Graybeards. Believe me, this is not easy.

The last Board meeting minutes comprised 121 pages, which I condensed into 3 pages in the Nov-Dec 2012 issue of The Graybeards. The Annual Membership Meeting verbatim minutes totaled 92 pages, resulting in 7 typewritten pages, which are in this issue. This “Mining the Minutes” process takes several hours/days to complete.

My point in telling you this is because of space requirements. I cannot include everything that was said, and I will occasionally omit what you may think was important to you. I recently received a call complaining about some things that I did not include in the condensed Board minutes. I do not omit those items intentionally, but as I have said it is a space problem, and once it is done, it is done.

No KWVA Scholarships
I am still getting a lot of requests for scholarships from our members. The KWVA has not offered scholarships for several years. In 2011 there was a scholarship offered and I handled it, but it was sponsored by a Korean organization, not the KWVA.

With A Song In Our Hearts
Here is an e-mail that I received: “When I was watching the 12-12 Concert last night I learned about The Graybeards and would be so pleased to get our song out into the Graybeard community.

Please listen by clicking on the link below. I hope you enjoy our song and do share it. Please feel free to add the following link to your website: Carla Gordon - Thank The Ones Who Serve - YouTube

Kind regards from Chicago,

Carla Gordon, 773-528-7677”

When Did Our “Conflict” Become A War?
Recently someone was asking about when our war was changed from “conflict” to “war.” I have heard various discussions about it, but this is the first time I have seen anything in writing. Actually, Annalie Weber found this and I thought all of you might want to see it.

Please let me know if you have anything else that speaks to this question.

From Annalie

I just found this message in my “draft” folder. Not certain if original message was received. But here is the information regarding when the “Korean Conflict” was changed to Korean War. Attached is a copy taken from the Public Laws as passed by both the House of Representatives and the Senate. Sadly, it made no national news.

I’ve scoured most of the national newspapers and none, to my reading, gave it any “news item of worth”… Go figure.

Annie.

Submitted by Frank Cohee
National/Association Secretary, KWVA
Six months are as rewarding, but challenging, as failure, some disappointments, some very long hours in my office, and even more lengthy waits in airports, that I have not lost my enthusiasm for this job as President. The next six months are going to be quite trying with the 60th anniversary planning and all the other things we have in the fire.

We will take them one at a time. Larry Kinard and your Second Vice President Roy Aldridge are kept on board on all major events. I make it a practice of doing so. Your Board of Directors is working hard to make the KWVA a great VSO.

A Board meeting is scheduled for March 20th in Syracuse, NY. I am instructing all Board members and appointed staff to come to the meeting with new ideas for us to kick around concerning some of the things we need to do to increase membership and revenue flow and to discuss several other items that I hope to get resolved. We have some great talent on this Board, and I intend to take advantage of it.

Finally, before most of you who are reading this long report fall asleep, I wish all of the members who are running for the office of Director this year good luck. I know all of them well; they are all extremely qualified. It is going to very difficult for you as voters to pick out the best four.

Please—and I implore you—“VOTE.” It only takes a minute or two to do so. Show interest in your KWVA.

Six months are gone! I hope the next six are as rewarding, but challenging, as the past six.

Thanks again for your continued support.

Jim Ferris, President
Increasing membership in the KWVA has taken on great importance under the leadership of President Jim Ferris. To emphasize the importance of recruiting into Chapters, a National Chapter competition is being inaugurated. Competition rules are as follows:

- The period for this contest will be six (6) months, beginning March 1, 2013 and ending August 31, 2013.
- A picture and Chapter member names of the winning Chapter will be in The Graybeards following completion of the competition period.
- In addition to the recognition given to the winning Chapter, the next five Chapters will receive name recognition in The Graybeards.
- The winning Chapters will be determined by comparing percent increase in membership. The Regular membership* count as of March 1, 2013 will be compared to the Regular membership count on August 31, 2013 to determine the winning Chapter, as well as the next five Chapters.
- For purposes of this contest, only Regular memberships* are included to determine percent increase in membership.
- In the event of a tie for first place, multiple Chapters will receive recognition in the Graybeards, as will be the case for ties for 2nd through 6th place.

Computation of percent increase in Chapter membership includes:

- New Regular members*
- Inactive Regular members* who re-join during the competition period.

Deaths of existing members or of a newly recruited or re-joined member, if that death occurs during the contest period, shall continue to be reported to the membership office as usual, but will be in the Chapter membership count for the purpose of determining % increase.

Accuracy and timeliness of reporting the status and personal data of Chapter members are of utmost importance to the validity of the contest results.

Tom Stevens, LR25716
Membership Chairman

President Jim Ferris has made RECRUITING his top priority since his election as KWVA President. To give RECRUITING the proper emphasis and to get every KWVA member involved, a Chapter Membership Recruiting Contest will begin March 1, 2013.

Rules of the contest are outlined above. Let’s do it!

Tom Stevens,
Membership Chairman

HR- 318 113th Congress

My fellow KORWARVETS and KORDEFVETS:

The HR above is the same as HR 2563 that died in the 112th Congress last year. What it mandates is full compliance with PL 99-572 which originally authorized our Memorial and which said in part, “honor those who served in the Korean War particularly those killed in action.” It has been resubmitted by Congressman Hall of TX and has, at the moment, 22 co-sponsors. We need 300 and more to get it passed in time to have a groundbreaking ceremony on 27 July 13.

If enacted, it will enable a Wall of Remembrance to be added to our Memorial in DC. The Wall will encircle the back half of the Pool of Remembrance. It will be of glass and have inscribed the names of our fallen comrades and the number of US KIA, MIA and POW and, the number of KATUSA, ROK and UN-KIA, WIA, MIA and POW. (See picture.)

I need each of you to write your Congressman ASAP and demand that they become co-sponsors!!!! Just a short handwritten note will do! Just say, “As my Representative, I urge you to co-sponsor HR 318. Enactment of HR 318 will finally enable a Wall to be added to the Korean War Veterans Memorial listing the names of American Soldiery killed in action in the Korean War. Nowhere in our country are they so honored and they deserve to be Remembered----for now they are Forgotten!”

There are about 14000+ of you in KWVA. Add your extended family and that can mean in excess of 30000 letters. It will take that many to make this happen as there are some in our country that object to ‘another Wall on the Mall!’ This will only take a few minutes of your time and a 46 cents stamp. Surely, our fallen comrades deserve this kind of effort on your part.

DO IT TODAY!

No longer ‘THE FORGOTTEN WAR’!

Hopefully William G. Santo Did Not Die In Vain

No one should die alone. Unfortunately, U.S. Army veteran William G. Santo did. Luckily, there were people who made sure he was not buried alone, or in complete anonymity.

Not dying alone was the subject of an essay I included in one of my books, Thoughts I Thunk When I Wasn’t Thinking. I had forgotten about the essay (and the book, as did most people, since the book rose immediately to non-best seller lists everywhere) until I talked to Peter Orenski, an Associate Member of Ch 11, Danbury [CT], a couple months ago.

Orenski said, “Read the story of William Santo’s burial that came up at our chapter’s meeting last night. It just tugged at my heart all evening. I thought you might find a way to have it tug at the hearts of others around the country to inspire them to similar gestures—the ultimate respect to a veteran none of the participants in the ceremony had ever met.”

The story Orenski mentioned was written by Ch 11 President Brendan T. Sniffin regarding the burial service of SP4 William G. Santo. Sniffin wrote:

“I didn’t know William Santo, and I don’t know what circumstances in his life caused him to die at age 74 without family or friends around him. What I do know is that William served his country in the United States Army, attained the rank of SP4, and at one time was named soldier of the month in his unit. I was told he served in Korea.

“I am told someone mentioned to Korean War veteran Ken Post that they had not seen William in a while; Ken did some research and found that William had been found dead and his body lay unclaimed in the Connecticut state morgue in Farmington.

“Through the efforts of Ken and Danbury’s Veterans Advisor Pat Waldron, they managed to get the remains released with the help and generosity of Dan Jowdy of the Jowdy/Kane Funeral Home. William was laid to rest in the veterans section of Wooster Cemetery with a full military service on Monday, December 3, 2012. As I looked around at the sizeable gathering of veterans I was struck by the fact that none of us knew this man personally. But we do have a common bond. I hope we never forget it!”

Now, admittedly, my aforementioned essay was about a cat. But, Orenski and Sniffin were talking about a human being. Yet, it was as if Santo had never existed. There is no record of his death in newspapers or on internet sites like legacy.com. He qualifies for Shakespeare’s terse description of life in Macbeth, at least the “walking shadow” part: “Out, out brief candle. Life is but a poor player, a walking shadow, that struts and frets its hour upon the stage and then is heard no more.”

Certainly, Santo strutted and fretted his hour upon the stage, and then was heard no more—almost.

What would have happened if Ken Post had not followed up on the report of Santo’s death? How long would William Santo have lain in the morgue until he was buried inconspicuously in some remote corner of a nondescript cemetery somewhere in Connecticut with no one in attendance? How many other veterans lie in morgues across the country awaiting discovery, burial—and recognition?

There are others. Not too long ago I received a call from a coroner’s office in California. The caller told me they had an unclaimed body in their morgue that had been there for some time. They had a name and a piece of paper identifying him as a veteran, but that was all they had. I directed her to the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis for help, and told her to get back to me if she did not get the information she needed. She did not, so I assume she got some help there.

It is our duty as veterans to make sure that we find and pay tribute to our deceased comrades who have completed their hour upon the stage in complete anonymity and then are heard no more. I am not suggesting that we visit morgues across the country and ask administrators if they have any unidentified veterans in their facilities. I am suggesting that we follow the leads of concerned people like Ken Post, Brendan Sniffin, Peter Orenski, Pat Waldron, and Dan Jowdy to make sure that the William Santos of the world receive in death the recognition for their military contributions that they did not receive in life. They earned it. Those of us who are left behind can provide it.

We may not have to do that for cats, but we can certainly do it for veterans.

The Graybeards
People who are looking for a way to leave money to the KWVA might consider doing so through their wills. But, some folks say, that involves the use of an attorney, which can be cost prohibitive. Fortunately, people don’t need an attorney to draft a will—although it is not a bad idea to use one whenever possible.

Let’s face it: people do not always want to take the time and expense of paying an attorney to draft a will for them. That can sometimes mean that organizations like the KWVA miss out as beneficiaries from folks who might otherwise include them in their wills. So, rather than utilizing attorneys’ services, some enterprising people create their own wills through one of two methods.

Two Ways To Create A Will Without The Use Of A Lawyer

There are two ways a person can create a will, or a codicil (a testamentary document that adds to, subtracts from, qualifies, modifies, revokes, or otherwise alters or explains an existing will) without the aid of an attorney: create a “holographic” will or utilize a statutory will.

A “Holographic” Will

Space prevents us from explaining how to create a “holographic” will state by state, since laws differ between and among our fifty states. Let’s use California as an example. California Probate Code Section 6110-6113 provides for the requirements of a validly executed holographic will. Essentially, a document will be valid as a holographic will if “the signature and the material provisions are in the handwriting of the testator.”

A holographic codicil is a simple amendment that references the will and its date. One advantage of a holographic will is that it does not have to be witnessed. However, anyone who wants to protect against claims that the holographic will is not valid should have it witnessed.

A Statutory Will

The second method is to utilize a statutory will. All states are signatories to the Uniform Probate Code (UPC), but folks are advised to check out their individual states’ laws, forms, etc. (To get an idea of individual states’ adaptations of the UPC, enter your state’s name and Uniform Probate Code, e.g., Idaho Uniform Probate Code, in the internet search box on your computer.) Again, we’ll use California as an example here.

The California Statutory will is provided by Probate Code at Section 6240. The California Statutory will is a preprinted form that allows individuals to fill in the blanks with their wishes. California residents can print a copy of the California Statutory Will at this website: http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Portals/0/documents/publications/Will-Form.pdf

Helpful Hint

People who wish to donate money to the KWVA through their will should be specific on how much money they wish to leave to the KWVA. They should spell out the association’s name and address: Korean War Veterans Association, P.O. Box 407, Charleston, IL 61920-0407.

Q&A

What happens if I don’t have enough money in my estate?

If there is not enough money in your estate to cover all the specific bequests, what is there is usually apportioned.

How do I donate if I have a trust?

If you have a trust, leaving money to KWVA can be accomplished by a simple amendment. You do not need a whole new trust.

What if I have any questions about donating to the KWVA through a will?

The simplest way to get answers to the above question is to talk to an attorney or financial advisor.

Annual Membership Meeting Rules of Decorum @ Debate:
President Ferris read the rules. Mr. Kaiser, CID 4, MO made a motion to accept them. It was seconded by Director Griffith and passed unanimously.

Introduction of Chapter and Department Commanders: President Ferris introduced Sal Scarlato, President, Dept. of NY; Tilford Jones, 1st VP, Dept. of TX; Ed Valle, CID 40, MN; Richard Sapp, CID 86; Mike Glazzy, President, Dept. of CA; J. Randolph, President, CID 270, TX; Kenneth Hoffman, President, CID 96, MO; John Gunther, CID 44, MO; Tom Stevens, President, CID 181, KS; Tom McHugh, 1st VP, Dept. of NJ; Frank Cohee, Commander, CID 158, FL; John Barwinczok, CID 296, NY.

Introduction of Staff and others: Jim Doppelhammer, KWVA Webmaster; Jake Feaster, Asst. Secretary and Supervisor of Membership Management; Jamie Rednor, Membership Adm. Asst.; Larry Kinard, 1st VP and Chairman of the Tell America Committee; J. D. Randolph, National VAVS Director; Bill Burns, Judge Advocate; Kevin Secor, Office of the Secretary for Veterans Affairs; Bill Mac Swain, Immediate Past National KWVA President; Jamie Wiedhahn, Son of Warren Wiedhahn, KWVA Liaison to Washington, DC; Professor Jongwoo Han, KWVA Liaison to Korean-American Assn.

President Ferris then asked those in attendance to please rise for a moment of silent prayer for two members who recently passed away, David Mills and Ed. Buckman. He then asked Kevin Secor to come forward and speak to the membership.

Kevin Secor, Special Assistant to the Secretary Department of Veterans Affairs: Mr. Secor commented that he was a VSO liaison for Secretary Shinseki, and on the Secretary’s behalf he wished each and every one the best and to say thank you for all that we do for our veterans, and also for the VA. He said that since he has been with the Department he has seen many, many changes. One of the President’s best decisions he has ever made was selecting General Shinseki to be our Secretary of Veterans Affairs. The VA is now a state-of-the-art VA. Changes have been made at the VA medical facilities, at the Veterans benefits administration and at the national cemeteries.

The VA budget, when he came aboard in 2005, was about $98 billion. This year, the budget that is now before Congress is $140 billion, an increase of 40 percent. This is because of the Secretary’s determination and his push to get that increase for the right reasons. With the increase in the budget the VA has added 57 new community-based outpatient clinics, 20 more mobile health clinics, and a 5th Poly trauma center, in San Antonio, TX.

Under construction are three new hospitals, at Orlando, Denver and New Orleans. The claims backlog has also been improved. Even though there is still a 580,000-claim backlog, that means fewer claims in the system that are over 125 days old. What a lot of people do not know is that this year the VA adjudicated 1.1 million claims and received 1.5 million new claims.

With all that being said, there is also another thing that’s still critically important, and that is with your volunteerism at our VA facilities, which is so urgently needed. The VA is here for you with 316,000 employees. 100,000 of them are veterans, and we are hiring more veterans.

Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen. God bless you all and thank you for your time. Mr. Secor was followed by Professor Jongwoo Han.

Professor Jongwoo Han, KWVA Liaison to Korean-American Assn: Professor Han commented that he was there to interview Korean War veterans about their sacrifices and memories and that he has done that 63 times already. On behalf of all Koreans I want to thank all of you. You are the backbone of this friendship between the United States of America and Korea and also strong alliance. The 63 previous interviews and about 2,500 artifacts can be viewed at www.kwvdm.org, which is the website for the Korean War Veteran Digital Memorial.

While the Professor was in DC last year he met with Larry Kinard, Chairman of the Tell America Committee, and our President, and talked about how they could work together and expand the digital memorial with the Tell America Program. He then showed a video of that meeting.

BUSINESS

MINUTES OF ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING — ST. LOUIS, MO

OCTOBER 12, 2012

January - February 2013

The Graybeards
Following the showing, Larry opined that what Professor Han is doing fits right in with where we need to go with the Tell America Program. Professor Han concluded by commenting that this is a very small example of what we can do together about your legacy.

Approval of Previous General Membership Meeting Minutes of 10/30/2011: In lieu of having Secretary Cohee read the minutes, J. D. Randolph, CID 270, made a motion to approve the minutes as published in the Nov-Dec 2011 issue of The Graybeards. Bob Hill, CID 194, seconded the motion; it was approved without opposition.

Treasurer’s Report: Assistant Treasurer Barwinczok stated that the primary checking account as of Sep 30 2012 has a balance of $37,737.94, and the savings account has a balance of $40,860.05. Robert Osborn, CID 6, MO made a motion to accept the Treasurer’s Report. The motion was seconded by Ken Hoffman, CID 6, MO, and approved unanimously.

Budget and Finance Report-Approval of 2013 Budget: Chairman Jones had the budget displayed on a viewgraph screen. He commented that the budget for 2013 was $342,409, which is a little over $15,000 more than 2012. Most of this is due to an increase in meetings and headquarters expenses. There were several decreases in other areas. Ed Valle, CID 40, MO made a motion to accept the budget as proposed; it was seconded by J. D. Randolph, CID 270, and approved unanimously.

Mike Glazzy, Department of CA President, asked if the budget for The Graybeards included expenses for mailing extra Graybeards for recruiting purposes. Chairman Jones responded, “No, it does not. That comes through the membership office if you are requesting additional copies other than what our normal distribution is.”

President’s Report: President Ferris told the membership that it is important that they know what is going on. First, he noted that last June he was elected with about two-thirds of the votes that were cast for the office of the President. When I saw those numbers I could only come to one conclusion, and that was to show some leadership for the KWVA. Our Past President, Bill Mac Swain, was a great example of a leader, and I had the honor and privilege to be his first VP for four years. Now it is time for me to do the same.

As soon as I knew I was elected, the first thing I did was create a Recruiting Committee under the standing Membership Committee. I appointed Sonny Edwards to be in charge of that new committee. Recognizing that both the American Legion and VFW have more Korean veterans on their rolls than we have, I contacted the executive director of the VFW and then met with him and some of his staff. I found out that they have 220,000 Korean War veterans on their rolls and we have 16,000. I asked him to help us recruit some of these people, and he agreed.

Last month, when I was in Korea, I appointed Mr. John Lee, a native South Korean and an attorney, to be our South Korean liaison in Korea. He should be able to help us a lot with recruiting people over there. Also, when HR-5903 is passed, it will open the door for us to start recruiting some of the folks that are on the DMZ and other places in Korea.

My next priority, after recruiting, is to find a way to reduce our costs for producing The Graybeards. This is our largest budgeted item, at about $170,000.00 a year. I arranged to meet with Ambassador Shea twice and asked him to go to the Korean government and ask them to help us with the cost. I made it clear that we did not want a one-time donation but rather a subsidy to defray the costs forever. I am trying hard to lead this organization for generations to come, and I hope I can do that.

President Ferris then introduced Ed Valle, President of the Twin City Metro area in MN, and Chris Wagner, representing the Kahler Grand Hotel, located in Rochester, MN.

Mr. Valle: Chris and I are here to make a presentation to encourage you to vote on the 2014 reunion to be held in Rochester, MN.

Mr. Chris Wagner: Mr. Wagner showed several slides of the facilities of the Kahler Hotel as well as what Rochester had to offer. The room rates at the hotel will be: economy room: $79, standard room $89. There are also upgraded rooms available at various prices and there is free parking. There will be a free wine and cheese reception, and a buffet breakfast for $9.95.

Mr. Hill, South Dakota, CID 194, made a motion that we accept Rochester for the annual membership meeting in 2014. It was seconded by Robert Fitzgerald, Quad Cities, IL. The motion was passed unanimously. President Ferris commented that at the meeting of the Board yesterday they approved the dates of the 15th - 19th of October, 2014. All in favor of those dates say aye, whereupon all said aye.

Other Committee Reports:

Membership: Director Stevens, Chairman of the Membership Committee, questioned the previous report of the KWVA having 16,000 members. The figure that he got off the web site recently was 14,523. The membership department sent out cards last year to verify that the member was still alive and if he wanted to continue receiving The Graybeards. A lot of members did not respond, which resulted in a drop of the membership. A large number of life members did not respond, so they were put into an inactive category and will no longer be receiving The Graybeards. I have been trying to contact those members who did not respond. I am finding that many are deceased, and several do not remember receiving the postcard. So, gradually, we are recouping those members who failed to return their card.

Norm Benty, CID 26, IL asked if the KWVA has ever considered sons and daughters of the Korean War veterans. Chairman Stevens responded that, “I am not sure what the history is on that but I think it has been considered at one time and was voted down by the Board of Directors.”

Chairman Stevens then commented that was all he had to say and asked Jake Feaster, Membership Management Supervisor, to come forward.

Mike Glazzy, Department Commander for CA, commented that as a means of recruiting in CA, he is considering distributing The Graybeards to all of the veterans in the six Resident homes in CA. One home he visited had 250 Korean War veterans. I want to thank Jim Doppelhammer and Frank Cohee for providing me with extra Graybeards to distribute at that home.

Jake Feaster, Membership Management: Jake commented that he and Jim Doppelhammer have been working on the KWVA database for about seven years. It has been a real challenge, because up until then there had been very little coordination. We still have a long way to go, but we also have come a long way. We now have 233 Chapters and 15 Departments, and we are trying to form more as well as trying to get more members in the existing Chapters. There are about 9,000 active members, but about 3,400 of those are delinquent in their dues so they are not really active members.

They need to pay their National dues or the Chapter needs to remove them from their rosters. Also, we have about 5,500 active-paid up members who are not in Chapters and we are trying to get them to join a Chapter if there is one in their area.

Larry Kinard, First VP and Chairman of the Tell America Program, stated that in order to participate in the revisit program we require that they are a member of the KWVA or that they join the Association. Unfortunately, many of those do not rejoin after their first year. Jamie said he was an Associated Member and questioned whether or not he could become a Regular Member because he was the son of a Korean War veteran. Chairman Stevens responded that he could not be a Regular Member. He then asked our webmaster, Jim Doppelhammer, to say a few words.

Webmaster, Jim Doppelhammer: Jim discussed a new thing on the website, a list of recently joined new members link. This list can be used by the Chapters to recruit new members. The new members list is also published in The Graybeards.

Sonny Edwards, Chairman of the Recruiting Committee: Sonny commented that his Recruiting Committee was everyone in the room and asked how many had an application for membership in his or her pocket. He then introduced the members of his committee, Bob Hill, Warren Wiedhahn, and Jeff Brodeur. He said that the members should work with the VFW and American Legion, because they have a huge database of Korean War veterans.

In the membership report for the last 90 days, only nine states have recruited ten or more members and some have recruited only four or five. There are six states that have recruited none. At the President’s request I have put together a “Recruiting Guide.” If any Chapters or Departments do not have one, I have some extra copies for you.

President Ferris commented, with that enthusiasm I am gambling on 20,000 new members in the next year. If I could send Sonny to every city, we would probably be larger then the VFW. You will notice all of the blue shirts. I got those shirts for members of the Board. It was one of the first things that I did to show you that we are a team and we are working together. You are looking at one of the greatest Boards that I have sat on. Next up is my First VP, Larry Kinard.

Larry Kinard, First VP and Chairman of the Tell America Committee: Larry commented that he is very supportive of trying to do something to provide incentives to the Chapters to recruit. The next challenge is to make sure they do not leave. If these people can come to your Chapter and become involved, especially in the Tell America Program, I think that will help retain them. Out of the 233 Chapters, 109 are participating in the Tell America Program.

President Ferris said that next up is Tom McHugh, Chairman of the Ceremonies and Election Committee.

Chairman McHugh: The Ceremonies Committee has been in DC as usual for Memorial and Veterans Day to present the colors. We have our new flag with us with the revised writing that recognizes our Korean Service Veterans. Chapter 299, MA, comes down on Memorial Day and presents the colors at Arlington. The Maryland Chapters have been doing the flag ceremony for the last several years, but can no longer do that because of age, etc. We may have to bring in one of the Chapters that are farther away.

Right now it costs around $3,000 to bring in the Chapter from MA. As for the Election Committee, there has been a small change to the application form. There is a statement on the form that says to include a statement that you are releasing the form to the Election Committee. About half of the applicants do not include that statement. The required statement is now part of the check list. If you are in DC during any of the aforementioned events, please join us.

President Ferris stated that next up is the Revisit Korea Program. Jamie Wiedhahn is going to fill in for his father, Warren Wiedhahn.

Revisit Korea Program: Jamie stated that it was an honor to be with the Korean War veterans and to have the job he has as Revisit Korea Coordinator in charge of taking the veterans and their families back to Korea. The Korean government is very respectful, and Korea is a very gracious country. I am truly and constantly amazed at their generosity.

They just stated a new program called Peace Camp for Youth. This is for the grandchildren of Korean War veterans. It is very similar to the revisit program, where the Korean government pays for everything in country. We think they are also going to pay 50 percent of the airfare. For the 60th anniversary of the armistice in 2013 we are expecting the South Korea government to increase the quotas from 600 to 700. They put about $25 million a year into this program.

Mike Glazzy, Department Commander of CA, asked if he needed more than a passport to participate in the Korean battlefield tours. Jamie responded that he did, and that he was the one that started this program.

Mike stated a new program called Peace Camp for Youth. Mike Glazzy, Department Commander of CA, asked if he needed more than a passport to participate in the Korean battlefield tours. Jamie responded that he did, and that he was the one that started those tours because a lot of the veterans were asking to go back to specific spots. This is a three-day pre-tour in advance of the main revisit tour. It is not a government sponsored program.

We tour the entire DMZ, east to west, all above the 38th parallel.
We go to the Punch Bowl, Heartbreak Ridge, Pork Chop Hill, Won Valley, Yung Goo, etc. One of the most interesting things about putting the tour together was finding restaurants with seats. Those are the battlefield tours.

While waiting for the VAVS Director to reach the podium, First VP and Chairman of the Tell America Committee Larry Kinard said he wanted to add another point about the brief account of the Korean War. Jack Walker wrote that book and he did a great job. He only charged us a small royalty for those he gave us because we are going to give them to the Korean War veterans and to the schools. On the back page of the book is Jack’s website and e-mail address. Please write to Jack and tell him we appreciate what he did.

VAVS Report: My name is J. D. Randolph and I am the National VAVS Director. I deal with the VA. The amount of service and hours spent by our volunteers in the VA hospitals and national cemeteries is a major part of the President’s report that he must send to Congress every year. Last year we had 31,396 volunteer hours, which was a savings to the VA of $670,618. In 2012 we were down about ten percent to 29,416 volunteer hours and a savings to the VA of $640,974.

We need more volunteers who are actually helping the veterans. We have a lot of VA hospitals at which we have no representation whatsoever. There are also a lot of states that have no representation. The VA hospitals now depend on the KWVA as the primary veterans organization to help veterans. This used to be WWII veterans, but now it is our turn.

I am very lucky with my Chapter, CID 270, TX. We have 128 members, of whom 46 volunteer at the VA hospital and at the national cemeteries. Last year our Chapter donated 5,532 hours to veterans organization to help veterans. This used to be WWII veterans, but now it is our turn.

Fundraising Report: My name is Art Griffith, a Director and Chairman of the Fundraising Committee. We took in $58,384 this year. We had expenses of $14,315.40, so we have a net profit of $44,088.60. We will now have the drawing. The winner of the M1 Garand rifle is John Schramm, LR29088.

At this point President Ferris commented that Art has been the fundraising guru for many years and he has accumulated around $220,000 for the organization. I think that deserves a big hand.

The next drawing, for $2,000, was won by Gerald Hanson, LR20111. The next and last drawing, for a 50-inch TV, was won by Alfred Debad, LR11564.

President Ferris then asked Colonel (Ret) Jake Feaster to come forward. The President presented a plaque to Mr. Feaster for outstanding dedication and commitment while serving as a U.S. Army Officer for 41 years of active and reserve service, including service in Korea in 1953, and for his service in several Chapters, one as President, Treasurer, Secretary and Judge Advocate, serving two terms as the President for the Dept. of FL, and serving as National Assistant Secretary and Supervisor of Membership Management.

President Ferris then asked Director Jim Fountain to come forward. He thanked Director Fountain, along with all of those who helped him, for his effort on putting the 2012 General Membership Annual Meeting together. Director Fountain added his thanks to the people who helped him, and said that, “We have not got it made yet—we are still working on it.”

President Ferris then called on the Chaplain to give the closing prayer. First, he made a comment about being notified of a member’s passing. When he is notified he sends a sympathy card to the family in the name of the KWVA. He asked that he be kept informed so he could do his job.

The Chaplain then led us in prayer.

Member Walter Kaiser, CID 4, made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Director Griffith requested a delay so that he could get permission to destroy the raffle tickets. Director Lawhon made a motion to destroy the tickets; it was seconded by Mr. Barwinczok and passed unanimously.

President Ferris called for a vote on adjourning the meeting, which was passed unanimously. He then asked all to stand for the singing of “God Bless America.”

Respectfully Submitted,

Frank Cohee,
National Association Secretary, KWVA

George S. Covel

I, George S. Covel, hereby state my intention to run for the office of Director (4 years) of the Korean War Veterans Association. I am a Life Member of the association with dues paid through the upcoming term of office and beyond. I promise to attend all called meetings of the Board of Directors during my term of office. I understand that two (2) unexcused absences from such meetings may be cause for my removal from office.

I am currently a Director/Trustee of the Department of New York, Korean War Veterans Association; a Life Member of the Northeast Chapter 59, KWVA; and an active member of Adirondack Chapter 60, KWVA. I have been Chairman of the Memorial Service for the Department of New York’s annual convention. I first joined the KWVA at its beginning, but due to poor communication during those early days, I became inactive until rejoining in the late ’90s, when I joined the Northeast Chapter.

During the Korean War I served from 1952 through 1954 (six years after I had polio), 1953-54 as a Sergeant (E-5), Tuba Section Leader, 8th Army Band, which was the ceremonial band for the United Nations Command Honor Guard. During red alerts, I handled the .50 caliber machine gun on a tower in our compound.

Following my discharge, I served in the NY National Guard as a Court Reporter in the JAG section, 42nd Inf. Div., where I rose to the rank of MSGT (E-7) until 1960, when I received a COG Honorable Discharge which was necessitated by my employment at the United Nations as an English language verbatim reporter of debates.

My desire to serve my fellow veterans of the Korean War is prompted by a wish to see our membership rolls grow as a result of Pres. Ferris’ stated program to enlarge our membership. I want to work to get the word out about Korean veterans and what we did and how we do not want to see our efforts or the memories of our fallen comrades forgotten. We have been The Forgotten War too long; we must continue doing something about it, and that’s why I want to serve you. I also want to see our organization continue on a sound financial basis.

My education and prior employment, plus my long history of service to my colleagues in my profession, fellow union members and fraternal brothers gives me the experience to serve as a member of the Board of Directors of this great organization of ours. I attended Hofstra College (now Hofstra University), Juilliard School of Music, and have attended Skidmore College as an audit student. I worked for 45 years as a court reporter, working in the NYS Supreme Court, NYS Court of Claims, the United Nations, and, as a free-lance reporter in New York, New Jersey and Washington, DC, where I had the opportunity to work at The White House. For 25 years, I was the official reporter for the Grand Lodge conventions of the BPO Elks Lodge. Serving the youth of my area. I skated as a USA Hockey Referee until age 70.

My association experience includes being a Past Exalted Ruler of an Elks Lodge, Vice-President of a labor union local and a board member of two other labor union locals. I am a Past President of my professional organization, with ten years as its Legislative Committee Chairman.

I am married two the former Joan Borowiec of Lowville, NY, for the past 60 years. We are the parents of five children, have nine grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Joan has been very supportive of me in all of my service to the organizations of which I have been a part.

All information contained in this letter and the copy of the Membership Application Form is hereby released to the Elections Committee for verification.

Tom Stevens
I am Tom Stevens. It is my intent to run for re-election to the Board of KWVA. I’ll have served one 3 year term which completes in 2013 and would regard it a privilege if I am elected for a second term. During my first term I have served the Membership Chairman under President MacSwain and now President Ferris. President, Jim Ferris is placing renewed emphasis on increasing KWVA membership.
My 3 years experience as Membership Chairman will enable me to effectively help him achieve that goal.
I served four years in the U.S. Air Force, 1951-1955. During the Korean War I as stationed at Kadena AFB, Okinawa. I flew 27 combat interdiction missions to North Korea. My assigned position was that of tail gunner on a B-29 Superfortress. Later I served on B-50s, constantly standing ready to deliver a retaliatory strike to communist Russia, if circumstances warranted. Upon being honorably discharged from the USAF, I entered Drury College, Springfield, MO, graduating in 1959 with an AB degree in Economics/Psychology. Upon graduation from Drury, I was hired into the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company management training program. After holding a variety of management positions, the last one being District Manager in St. Louis, MO I retired with 32 years, 7 months of service. I was 1st V.P. of our Memorial Committee which designed and built with donations a Korean War Memorial in Overland park, KS. I am currently President of Kansas CID 181. I have served previously as Secretary, Treasurer and 1st V.P. I am also President of the 307th Bomb Group/Wing (1946-54) and have been the newsletter editor for the last 10 years. I have served one term on my homes association board and will be running for re-election to a second term beginning this fall. Two days each week I volunteer at St. Joseph Medical Center, Kansas-City, MO as a transporter.

I am married to Barbara for 54 years. We have four grown children and seven almost grown grandchildren.

My current mailing address is, 5310 W. 122nd Terrace, Overland Park, KS 66209. My email is, stevenst@swbell.net and telephone number, 913 696-0447.

As a KWVA Life member, obviously my dues are paid. My Life member number is LR25716.

I will attend all called meetings of the Board of Directors and I do understand that two (2) unexcused absences could be used for my removal from office.

Your vote for my re-election to the KWVA Board will be very much appreciated.

Thank you,

Tom Stevens

We Do Have Chapters Numbered Higher Than 251

Some of our sharp-eyed readers may notice that chapter news in this edition ends with Chapter 251. They might ask whether we eliminated all chapters with numbers higher than that. The answer is a resounding "NO!"

Believe it or not, the explanation is straightforward, uh, black and white. Due to unprecedented demand among chapters for space in this edition, we exhausted our color page allocation. (Yes, we do have a limited number of color pages to work with in each edition.) Since we always include chapters news in our color section, we made an executive decision to defer all eight chapters above 251 until the next issue, rather than include them in black & white.

 Those eight chapters will be first in line for the March-April edition. We apologize for leaving some chapters out, but it is one of the hazards of putting together The Graybeards. On the plus side, it is nice to know that chapters are submitting their news, which is too colorful to print in black and white.

Keep it coming!

A grand opening of new USO facilities located in Terminal 4 of Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport took place on November 15, 2012. The original Military and Veterans Hospitality Lounge had been located in Terminal 2 for the past six years, but it had became inadequate for the amount of military troops passing through the airport. The majority of the troops had to shuttle from other larger terminals to visit it.

The current facility is a good five times larger, housing a children’s room, many computer terminals, and snack areas. Among the guests at the grand opening, pictured nearby, were several Korean War veterans, many of whom work closely with the USO in our area. They represent a veritable “Who’s Who” of local veterans.

They include a Navy Corpsman who served with USMC 1st Division; Art Sloane, CID 132, Richard Countryman [AZ], who writes a Veterans Voice column for a monthly local newspaper and is primary fundraiser for homeless veterans Stand Down and a member the Arizona Veterans Hall of Fame; Lew Bradley, Past Commander of KWVA CID 222, Arden A. Rowley, for a total of five years, present Chairman of the Unified Arizona Veterans, also a member of the Arizona Veterans Hall of Fame, and a contributor of magazine subscriptions and collector of candy and snacks from two local Walgreen’s stores for USO Arizona; Don Taylor, current Commander of Ch 222, who volunteers one day per week at USO Arizona and has done so since its original opening in 2006; Shirley Gersten, the spouse of Jesse Gersten, who has been a volunteer at USO Arizona since it opened in 2006; and Jesse Gersten, CID 132 Treasurer, Treasurer of the Unified Arizona Veterans, and a member of the Arizona Veterans Hall of Fame.

Occasionally, we make mistakes in The Graybeards. We try to be as accurate as possible, and we apologize for any errors that slip through. We do not have the funds for a fact checker, so we miss a fact or two now and then. Here are a couple clarifications. Incidentally, we rely on readers to inform us of any “misfires” that need correcting. We will print corrections in the next available edition.

Wrong Name

In the Nov/Dec 2012 edition, pp. 42-43, there is an article entitled “A Successful Search For A Korean Vet’s Son.” In it reference is made to Ed Henderson. I am that person, but my name is Jim.

I would appreciate it if a correction were made.

James (Jim) Henderson, jeremiah3@charter.net

Wrong Year

Thanks for printing “An Incredible Coincidence” in the Nov/Dec 2012 edition, p. 62, but please print a correction for an error that occurs in the very first sentence. It was in 1952, not 1951.

Birney Dibble

Released by AP during Easter Season of 1951, no other photo of a combat soldier in American history has been used for so many noble causes. In ’64-’65, the USO published it as a lynch pin for their fund drive. In 1990 Betty designed posters for the KWVA, both National and Chapters. Anchored by the photo of her husband, they were distributed throughout the nation generating funds for the construction of the Korean War Memorial in D.C. Accompanied by my editorials they generated membership to the KWVA. The Korean War National Museum used it for their home page. The KWVA published it on the cover of its 1993 history book “The Forgotten War... Remembered”. It has appeared on the History Channel and graced two Korean War Memorials. “The Unidentified Soldier in the USO Poster” is a book of historical importance. It can be purchased on line through Xlibris on AMAZON.COM & BARNES and NOBLE.COM. Members of KWVA Chapters may want to donate a copy of the book to their own local library and/or historical society.
PREFACE

May I wish you a happy New Year in this black snake year. I returned home last week after a 14-day special trip to Korea, which included a supportive campaign speech for the president-elect Park Geun-hye. I hope she will pay keener attention to the sacrifice that Korean War veterans made during the Korean War. I will continuously remind her about the precious contributions America had done during and after the war.

Attached is my opinion article on the importance of her victory in the election in fear of ever increasing number of left wing people within the South Korea.

With my best wishes to all Korean War veterans,

Sincerely,

Hubert Hojae Lee

ANALYSIS

The Republic of Korea achieved remarkable economic growth since it rose like a phoenix in the desert from the ashes of the Korean War. The Korean War is not ended yet, however. North Korea may yet invade South Korea. Were it not for American support with diplomacy and forces strategically stationed, tensions may escalate with an estimated number of left wing or pro-communist supporters of 4-5 million, reported by Korean military leaders.

Many South Koreans may still not appreciate or reconcile why it could become the world’s seventh strongest industrial country. The mutual defense treaty signed between the two countries allowed the South to concentrate on economic development to overcome increasing levels of poverty. The current economic prosperity may be attributed to Western capitalism promoting free competition on trade and an efficient allocation of natural resources, along with a supply and demand function in price determination.

The adoption of capitalism with a Keynesian policy tool makes South Korea one of the fastest growing countries in the world today, with the per capita income rising from $80 USD in the 1960s to $22,000 USD, along with GDP reaching $1 trillion USD. The 63-year-old allied relationship with the U.S. undoubtedly enabled South Korea to enjoy the freedom, democracy, peace and economic prosperity extant today.

The drive for export-oriented high economic growth naturally favored influencing corporations to be richer and expansive in the unfair distribution of its economic prosperity, which fueled the widening gap between the wealthy and poor. In the process of privileged support for conglomerates (Jaebol), bribery and corruption commonly began to root themselves and undermine those among political powers and large corporations who strive for the best national interest.

The past 30 years of preferential financing and support for export centered business have led to an inefficient allocation of economic resources into the reckless and unproductive use of valuable resources. The ever-increasing foreign capital has been misused, while national debts of consumers, business, and government have skyrocketed to astronomical amounts with a staggering national debt approaching a size that is a few times larger than the current GDP of $1 trillion USD.

Higher living standards call for a higher level of national welfare, without applying for a criterion that Sir William Beveridge invented, i.e., welfare expenditures should be implemented only under a full employment condition. For the past 35 years, a male centric political power promoted an upstream...

The 60th anniversary of the Korean War armistice is fast approaching. Local, state, and national organizations are planning celebrations of some sort. The Graybeards staff is doing the same, with a special edition to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the signing of the armistice on July 27, 1953.

We have been gathering stories from Korean War veterans for several months now. This is your last chance to submit your story. Please let us know where you were when the armistice was signed, what you were doing, what was going on where you were, how you and your buddies/units/enemies/families etc reacted. Or, just submit previously unpublished stories about your experiences in Korea during or after the war.

If you have photos, newspaper clips, diary entries, or other documents that supplement your remembrances, they would be welcome. We will put everything together for the special edition of The Graybeards that we are working on. (At this point, it looks like a two-part edition, based on the number of stories we have received.)

Send your material to 60th Anniversary Editor, The Graybeards, 895 Ribaut Rd. #13, Beaufort, SC 29902.

We began our 2012-2013 season when the schools started. We started with Americanism Day at Blackhawk Middle School, with 900 students in attendance. Two U.S. Army veterans pictured nearby enjoyed sharing time with our members, but I did not get their names. Incidentally, the principal of Holland Grade School is a Vietnam veteran.

As of this writing, we have talked to 2,360 students, in addition to 315 patients at local nursing centers.

Mary Anna Roemke, P.O. Box 15102, Fort Wayne, IN 46885
Hospice, gave a presentation on the White Table Service, including why the table is round and what each item on the table symbolizes. After the presentation, Paul Wolfgeher, Bob Jones, and Gene Winslow of our chapter were given a certificate paying special tribute for their military service.

Another first for us in 2012 was going to a veterans’ home in Cameron, MO. We made our presentation in the chapel. Residents came to listen to a couple of their fellow veterans speak. Some came on their own power, some in wheelchairs, and some with the help of their caregivers. But, God bless them, they came. After our presentation, we had lunch with them, which was great.

Anyone who would like to see more on this can go to www.northcarehospice.org.

Our Tell America Committee was busy throughout 2012. We presented 16 programs in our area to over 2,100 people. Members Dan Vanrenterghem and Ray Jameson have served as co-chairmen throughout the year. Other members who have been active with the committee are John Brown, Jim Rooney, Bob Wilson, and the recently deceased Bill Webb.

The nearby photos of our activities were taken at Arcadia, OH schools on November 9, 2012.

Department of Virginia Commander John (“Sonny”) Edwards and Ed Brooks offered a presentation at the Smithfield [VA] Library on November 10, 2012. The event included a video segment.

We presented a session at Central York High School, where we talked to four classes in Mr. Mark Shivers’ room. The students were very attentive and asked questions after each presenter spoke about his experiences.

In addition to our talks, we also held a Flag Folding Ceremony as is done at military funerals and explained what each fold meant. We also performed a skit depicting the flag at Fort McHenry in Baltimore Harbor during the War of 1812, when Francis Scott Key penned the “Star Spangled Banner.”

The entire experience was quite moving for us, and we were honored to be the school’s guests and to talk about the Korean War.

312 - ANTIETAM [MD]

Antietam Chapter 312 Visits Local High School

We were invited to participate in a local high school’s Veterans Day assembly program. Over an extended period of time, the chapter’s Commander, Les Bishop, had discussed the possibility of conducting a Tell America program with school officials at St. Maria Goretti High School in Hagerstown, MD. Instead of conducting the program for a class, Commander Bishop and representatives from Antietam Chapter 312 were asked to conduct an information program about the Korean War for the entire school.

Being equal to this task, the chapter set up some posters in the lobby area outside the gymnasium where the veterans were going to speak early in the day. These posters depicted the phases of the Korean War, military campaigns and an artist’s rendition of the Korean War Veterans Monument which the chapter is currently constructing in Hagerstown.

The program which the members presented included an overall review of the Korean War by Commander Bishop. This briefing was followed by several members who told their personal stories and experiences in Korea. The students were very attentive and particularly enthralled by the hardships encountered by two of the members.

Following the speeches, the students’ appreciation of the presentations was loud and nearly moved the veterans to a tear or two. After the students were dismissed, most of the students came to greet the veterans, ask some questions, and reinforce their appreciation for the veterans’ talks.

Veterans who participated in this program were Commander Les Bishop (USA), Jesse Englehart (USMC), Al Jacobson (USA), and Joe Startari (USN). Mr. Englehart and Mr. Jacobson were both survivors of the Chosin Reservoir campaign. All in all, it was really a great day for the students as well as the veterans.

Wayne R. Uptagrafft

Wayne Uptagrafft was a guest speaker at the Farmington [MN] High School’s Patriotic Day event on November 1, 2012. He served in Korea in 1952 with 8240 Army Unit, (Wolfpack 1) located on Kangawa-do Island, on the DMZ in ground operations behind the enemy lines in North Korea from February 1952 to December 1952. He operated with guerrilla troops that had volunteered to fight the North Koreans and Chinese.

As Uptagrafft explained it, he spoke about Korea and his experience there. The school fed over 1,300 people, including 400 students, at a free pork chop and mashed potatoes supper prepared by numerous volunteers. “It was the best program that I attended as a veteran, and I have talked at several other schools. But, there has been nothing of this size or as well organized,” Uptagrafft said.

Moreover, Uptagrafft noted, “There were no politicians or celebrities at the presentation. People are tired of listening to politicians. They get turned off very fast. They would come to eat the pork chops and leave. This was not the case when I talked. Over 1,000 people stayed and listened to what I had to say.”

Uptagrafft had an exciting assignment in Korea on which to base his presentation. As he explained, “I was classified top secret from 1952 to 1985. When I came home I could not talk about it. This was to protect me and my Army buddies who served with me.

“My mission behind the enemy line was to destroy and kill. We had no identification to reveal our name, organization, and mission. We carried nothing American on us. If we were captured, we could either try to fight our way back, be captured, or kill ourselves. I was lucky. I was never captured. I was wounded once, but I was able to fight my way back to the island.”

Uptagrafft has been an avid participant in KWVA activities. He was the commander of the Korean War Veterans Club in Rochester from 2002-2009. He took over as commander in 2002 from other Korean War veterans who had started the club.

Uptagrafft “just continued on from them and increased the membership from 75 to 230 members during my period as commander.”

He revealed that, “We presented the Colors at several of the schools with our own Color Guard and walked in many parades in the surrounding towns. Every Monday morning we meet at Grandma’s Cafe in Rochester from 8-9 am, have breakfast, and talk over veterans issues. We usually have from 30-50 people for breakfast. Our is the greatest bunch of veterans you would want to be around. We did our job and are a PROUD bunch of veterans. We did not all serve in the Korean War, but we did all have a single job to do: help people.”

That was the message he carried to the audience at Farmington High School, which fit well into the threefold purpose of the presentation, as described in the Patriotic Day Committee Meeting Agenda:

- promote patriotism throughout our community by uniting the school community with community partners. Defining patriotism as “love of country accompanied by willingness to serve one’s country.”
- a chance to involve the entire school community and surrounding community in events/activities/learnings before, during and after November 1st

Chapter President Walter Ballard spoke at the Visiting Scholars Assembly Program at UMS-Wright Preparatory School in Mobile, AL this year to begin the 9/11 memorial assembly. This event included 750 students and 6 distinguished veterans from the local community. Each speaker had 7-10 minutes to address the crowd.

The impressive panel included WWII Marine Corps veteran Dr. Sidney C. Phillips, Jr., who wrote the book You’ll Be Sor-ree, and practiced medicine locally for 40 years. He attended UMS in the 1930s.

Mr. Ballard, representing Korean War veterans, was, in addition to his military service, an electrician for International Paper Company in Mobile. Cold War Veteran Dr. Cheryl Rose served as an intelligence officer behind the Iron Curtain from 1969 until the Berlin Wall collapsed.

Retired U.S. Army Colonel Pat Downing discussed the Vietnam War. He served two tours of duty during that conflict. He also served in Panama, the Pentagon, the Middle East, Honduras, as a Harvard University Fellow, and is now at the University of South Alabama.

West Point graduate U.S. Army Colonel Lou Lartigue, Jr., represented the Iraq War era. He served as a tank commander in...
Desert Storm, at the Pentagon, and in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom/Operation New Dawn. He also served as a Fellow at MIT and most recently as the Chief Of Staff at Fort Benning, GA.

Master Sergeant Milous Loche talked about the Afghan War era. He is currently the Senior Military instructor at the University of South Alabama. Loche has had a highly decorated 27-year career as a tank commander and instructor in service to our nation globally, as well as in Afghanistan.

UMS 6-12 grade students were privileged to see three generations of heroes, an event on which they will look back with reverence and awe.

There was a reception after the program during which students had the opportunity to ask questions of the speakers on a one-on-one basis.

5 NORTHERN CALIFORNIA #1 [CA]

South Korean General Seung Woo Choi visited us in June 2012 as part of his tour through the Pacific Northwest. As an article written by George L. Winship and published in the June 27, 2012 Anderson Valley Post noted, “Far from his home in South Korea and bone weary due to flight delays and rerouting, retired Gen. Seung Woo Choi, 70, appeared fresh and re-energized in his crisply starched dress white parade uniform when welcomed Sunday in Anderson by more than 100 Korean War veterans and a like number of their family members.”

The General presented medals and certificates to chapter members and visited its Korean War monument at the Igo, CA Veterans Cemetery. “Our Korean War monument, which was dedicated on November 2009, and our active chapter were of interest to him,” Commander William McKinney observed. (See the related story on p. 55.) “So was an active Korean community. Kim Chamberlain, part of this community and wife of Paul Chamberlain, deceased KWVA member, was invaluable in working with our chapter [to organize this event].”

The Greater Cleveland KWVA Chapter was co-founded by Fred Lick, Jr. and Robert D. Haas in 1988. A year later, July 24, 1989, a Federal Charter was granted with 18 active charter members: Robert Haas, Pres; Robert O’Hara, VP; Richard Danielson, 2nd VP; Charles Benson, Sec; Fred Ellis, Treas; Alan Harrington, Sr. JA; Fred Lick, Frank DiLeonardo, Daniel Montille, Dennis Starcher, Tony Fransetta, Robert Brown, Laimons Patterson, David Dawson, Robert Griffith, George Perek, Robert H. Griffinett and James Conway.

During the early years, through the courtesy of Fred Lick, President and CEO, we met at Central Reserve Life Insurance Company. After we moved about seeking a place to meet, VFW Post #6676 in Berea was gracious enough to provide us with a comfortable monthly meeting room. Presently we have a total of 72 paid members and a grand total of 111 past members on the rolls. In addition, we have a very active auxiliary, with 24 members always willing to lend a hand.

Our goal is to help veterans and their families. A few of our activities include forwarding care packages to troops in Iraq; volunteering at The National Cemetery in Rittman, Ohio; and participating in military and other local parades. President John Marinchek has plans to strengthen the “Tell America” program, which is already in effect.

VFW Post 6676 has honored and recognized us for outstanding contributions. We also have a number of social activities each year, e.g., a Christmas Party and dining out. Due to age and health problems, members assist other members in attending meetings.

A special event occurred when we were honored to meet and host Dr. Han Duk-soo, Korean Ambassador to the United States, on his visit to the great city of Cleveland, OH. He spoke with great esteem for the American troops who fought with valor and bravery during the Korean War and the saving of his country from communism. He presented the chapter with a plaque of appreciation from the Korean government, which was much appreciated.

We have new officers for 2012-13. They were sworn in by Fred Lick, Jr. They are Treasurer Bob Johnson; Secretary Richard Brokowski; President John Marinchek; Chaplain Frank Zoretich, and Vice-President Joe Mendise. Congratulations to a fine group of officers.

The presentations were made at 9 a.m. on December 8th in the auditorium at the MacArthur Memorial in Norfolk, VA, which was made available through the good graces of William Davis (Col, USMC Ret.) Col Davis is the director of the MacArthur Memorial.

Presenting the certificates were Dennis McBride (Col. USMC Ret) and John Edwards, State Commander (Department of Virginia, KWVA). There were 73 individuals present for the awards; 40 individuals received the certificates. At the conclusion of the presentation, the individuals were invited to meet in one of the facility’s classrooms for coffee and an information session on membership in KWVA and about the Revisit program.

There was another ceremony at which certificates were presented to other individuals scheduled for late January 2013 at Park View Christian Church in Chesapeake, VA.

For additional information, contact Chaplain Leo Ruffing at 757-619-7940 or 757-484-8299.

Three staff members of Hospice of Texarkana were present at the “pinning” ceremony to award 11 Korean War veterans with a special pin to honor their service to the nation. Accepting the awards were Bill Carter, Vance Scott, Charles Terry, Carl Rackley, Troy Barron, Gene Welch, Marion Burdette, James M. Bradshaw, Jeff Holder, Cliff Barrett, and Theo Owen.

Hospice staff participating in the ceremony were Amy Glann, Director of Social Services; Cynthia Mullens, L.V.N.; and Andrea Sparks, administrative nurse, all of Hospice of Texarkana.

Rev. Don Brazille, of Texarkana, led the ceremony, which included patriotic singing and an inspirational message. As part of the “We Honor Veterans” program, the hospice staff understands the unique needs of veterans and is prepared to meet the specific challenges that veterans and their families may face in the future, hospice officials explained.

Brazille also announced that the Buchanan Baptist Church would be dedicating the Sunday, November 11, services in honor of all veterans. He invited area veterans to attend the 10:30 a.m. service.

We participated in the annual Veterans Day parade in downtown Texarkana on November 10th.

Members participated in the Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day Ceremony in Phoenix, AZ on December 7, 2012. Lew Bradley, who is on the planning committee for this great event, is just finishing his term as Chairman, Unified Arizona Veterans. He presented the wreath on behalf of the chapter.

There were 76 veteran service organizations presenting wreaths. The wreaths are marched to the USS Arizona anchor at the beginning of the ceremony and placed around it. They remain there throughout the ceremony. This procedure has been in place the past two years since Bradley chaired the planning committee.

Previously, participants placed the wreaths near the end of the ceremony and retrieved them at the end, which left them at the anchor about fifteen minutes, rather than throughout the ceremony.
Once again we had our Christmas Dinner at the Steak House in Norton, VA. As always, Joe supplied us with two attractive and efficient waitresses, Lisa McDavid and Allisyn Justice.

Our president, Ken Fannon, and his lovely wife Jean had a surprise for us. Along with beautiful flowers, they presented certificates to the members, recognizing the number of military funerals each of us has participated in. Ken works hard as our president and we appreciate his efforts.

For various reasons, everyone couldn’t attend, but those present were well fed.

Then And Now

We held our November 7, 2012 meeting at the Aleda Lutz VA Hospital in Saginaw, MI. We had 51 Korean vets present, plus 9 guests. The highlight of our meeting was a visit from the Korean Consul General’s Office in Chicago. I had been contacting them for three months to come and speak to us at our meeting.

Two Korean representatives came: Jin-Hyun Lee and Jae Kwang Kim. They brought gifts for all of our members. The gifts were a Peace Proclamation and a Peace Medal on a rainbow-colored neck ribbon.

Other local Koreans got “wind” of our guests. They included Hugh Lee, President of the Mid-Michigan Korean Association, Midland, MI, Woo Sung Sae of Midland, and two local Korean pastors, from Saginaw. Their presence led to some interesting exchanges of information. Public Relations Director Bob Simon and his wife Lois, Acting Historian, took the delegation to breakfast the following morning.

Although the Korean delegation members were all born in South Korea, most of them came to America between 4-6 years of age. They were all interested in hearing Simon’s stories of Korea in the 1950s, especially about “Cheerful Charlie” and “Smiling Sam,” guys who picked up human waste to put it in rice paddies. Today, real fertilizer must be used and modern tractors work up the rice paddies.

Also, they could not believe the people did not own cars back then. Now, in big cities every home has two cars. Another thing, taxi cabs were 1940s vintage. The drivers had to display an A or R, which designated the days on which they could operate. (They were allowed to drive only on odd or even days.)

Since there were zero gas stations, “slicky” boys would meet GI 5-ton tractor/cattle trailers waiting for secretaries, kitchen help, mechanics, etc. for a ride to military compounds. The boys siphoned 30 to 50 gallons of gasoline while the Korean driver of the tractor/trailers waited for workers to go to the military camps.

As a military policeman, I often wondered why these Korean truck drivers would fill the two 50-gallon tanks on the labor trucks. As Military Police out of Pusan, we would catch the boys, hand-

The Department of Defense POW/Missing Personnel Office (DPMO) announced today that the remains of a U.S. serviceman, missing in action from the Korean War, have been identified and were returned to his family for burial with full military honors.

Army Pfc. Glenn S. Schoenmann, 20, of Tracy City, Tenn., was buried Jan. 12, 2013 in Palmer, Tenn. He was assigned to Co. M., 3rd Bn., 31st Inf. Regt., 7th Inf. Div. In late November 1950, Schoenmann and elements of the 31st Regimental Combat Team were deployed along the eastern banks of the Chosin Reservoir, in North Korea. Schoenmann was reported missing in action on Dec. 12, 1950, after his unit and U.S. positions were encircled and attacked by the Chinese People’s Volunteer Forces.

In 1950, a returning American who had survived the attack reported that Schoenmann had been killed in action on Nov. 28, 1950, as a result of sniper wounds. In 1953, that conclusion was amended when an American who was held as a prisoner of war told U.S. officials that Schoenmann was wounded by a sniper but not mortally, held captive by the Chinese on Dec. 2, 1950, and died shortly thereafter from malnutrition and lack of medical care.

Between 1991 and 1994, North Korea gave the United States 208 boxes of remains believed to contain the remains of 200-400 U.S. service members. North Korean documents turned over with some of the boxes indicated that some of the human remains were recovered from the area where Schoenmann was last seen.

According to an article published by the TN.gov Newsroom on January 4, 2013, “Family members say Schoenmann’s remains were recovered in 2004, but the identification process was finalized in December, 2012.”

In the identification of the remains, scientists from the Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command (JPAC) and the Armed Forces DNA Identification Laboratory (AFDIL) used circumstantial evidence and forensic identification tools, such as radiograph and mitochondrial DNA, which matched Schoenmann’s sister and brother.

Using modern technology, identifications continue to be made from remains that were previously turned over by North Korean officials. Today, more than 7,900 Americans remain unaccounted for from the Korean War.

For additional information on the Defense Department’s mission to account for missing Americans, visit the DPMO web site at http://www.dtic.mil/dpmo or call (703) 699-1169.

According to the article mentioned above, “It just means a lot that he will be buried in the same cemetery with our mother, father and grandparents,” [his brother] Raymond Schoenmann said. “It’s finally uniting the family back together.”

Schoenmann is survived by a sister and three brothers.

Members of the 151st Combat Engineer Battalion who served in Korea from March 1951 to December 1954 met in Lebanon, TN for their 16th annual reunion, October 18-21, 2012. Jack and Ruth Cato hosted the gathering.

Through the years we have attracted over fifty members and their spouses. Not everyone can attend every year, but we always look forward to seeing each member and his spouse when they can make it. This year ten members and their spouses attended.

We had a wonderful time reminiscing, looking at old photos, eating, and laughing. We are so grateful that we were able to get together once again. The Tennessee weather was great, and the fall colors were beautiful.

On Saturday night we had a catered banquet at the Comfort Inn Suites, with a memorial table for the members we lost in the past year.

We offer special thanks to Jack and Ruth Cato for keeping us together. Their hard work is greatly appreciated.

Korean War Veterans of Massachusetts Honored

As we all know, the Korean War started on June 25, 1950. Sixty-one years later we thought it was about time to have a remembrance for those brave troops who fought and some who made the ultimate sacrifice. We had a vision and decided to name a section of highway that connects New Bedford, MA with Route 140 and ultimately Boston.

We contacted state representative Robert Koczera and state senator Marc Montigny to help push this idea through. It was brought before the Senate and the House in Boston and passed. Governor Deval Patrick signed it the bill. Today the section is known as the Korean War Veterans Memorial Roadway.

At the time of the ceremony, Scott Lang was Mayor of New Bedford. He spoke at the historic dedication ceremony, which was attended by approximately 150 people. Representative Koczera was our Master of Ceremonies.

All veterans, especially Korean veterans, are certainly proud to have this roadway named in honor of that war.

Various color guards attended this short ceremony, which gave the Korean War veterans who represent New Bedford and Bristol County a well-earned moment of fame, which we hope endures forever.

What a country we live in—and God Bless America!

Leominster students remember ‘Forgotten War’ with plaque

By Jack Minch
jminch@sentinelandenterprise.com

LEOMINSTER — They were far from the battlefields of Korea, but they have not forgotten the Forgotten War.

Four students at Leominster High School’s Center for Technical Education innovation’s Carpentry Department created a black silhouette of a kneeling soldier at the foot of a white cross for a local Korean War veteran.

In his military dress uniform, Art Griffith was at CTEi on Tuesday morning with Henry Clifford and Otis Mangrum to pick up the memorial, which Griffith plans to display in his yard.

“It’s in recognition of the 60th anniversary of the cease-fire July 27, 1953,” Griffith said.

The cross recognizes the 54,245 warriors who were killed in action, taken prisoner or remain listed as missing in action from the Korean War.

“I think students are touched when they do these sorts of things,” CTEi Director David Fiandaca said.

Griffith, a Leominster resident, is national director of the Korean War Veterans Association Inc. He served in Korea from 1959 to 1960 and again from 1975 to 1978, as well as in Vietnam from 1967 to 1969.

Clifford, a Fitchburg resident, is director of the Korean Veterans of America Chapter 299, and served in Korea in 1953.

Mangrum, also a Fitchburg resident, is a retired police officer and honor-guard sergeant for Chapter 299 who served in Vietnam from 1965 to 1966.

James Sharkey, vocational coordinator at CTEI, met with Griffith and then brought in carpentry instructor Marc Arnell.

Sophomores Alexandrea Brassard, 16, Sean Vincent, 15, Cory Gordon, 15, and Mitchell Silva, 15, used a paper template to create another template from Masonite, then made the plywood cutout.

“This is a great group,” Arnell said. “They are self-motivated. They got the project and got right on it.”

The project held special meaning for the students.

Gordon said that as a Boy Scout, he regularly volunteers for military events, such as Memorial Day remembrances.

Silva’s great-grandfather served in the military during World War II, “so it meant something to me,” he said.

Brassard’s family has a long history of military service.

“It meant a lot to me because my great-grandfather and great-uncles fought in the wars, and my father is in the Navy,” she said.

After picking up the silhouette memorial, the trio of soldiers left to perform their duties as honor guard for the funeral of Clovis “Tex” Girouard at Massachusetts Veterans’ Memorial Cemetery in Winchendon.

Kenneth Hoffman...a member of CID 96, North St Louis County #4 [MO], who served with the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War, received the 2012 Florissant Veteran of the Year Award following the Veterans’ Parade on Sunday, November 11, 2012. His service to the community after his military years was a contributing factor in his selection.

The Veteran of the Year must be honorably discharged, be a Florissant resident, and be an active volunteer to the community.

Ralph Yelton...of CID 289, Mountain Empire [TN] was featured in a November 11, 2012 Kingsport [TN] Times-News article. As the article states, Yelton, a combat engineer and veteran of World War II and the Korean War, was shot in the spine by machine gun fire on May 25, 1951. He became the oldest living paralyzed veteran in the U.S., although the Paralyzed Veterans of America cannot confirm that.

Carol Shelton noted that Ralph was a very active charter member of the chapter, but as time has gone on and his eyesight has worsened they see less of him. “He especially enjoyed our fundraisers, because everyone would stop to talk to the veteran in a wheelchair, and were more generous in their donations,” she said.

According to reporter Leigh Ann Laube, “The Tennessee Korean War Memorial was erected in 1992 in War Memorial Plaza on the Capitol grounds in Nashville.” Yelton told her, “The work I did on the monument is one thing I feel more accomplishment about than anything I did.”

Legion honors three veterans, columnist

By Mary Wicoff

DANVILLE — All Monroe Melzer wanted when he entered the American Legion Curtis G. Redden Post 210 on Monday was a bowl of chili. To his surprise, he also got an award.

Melzer was one of four people honored during a program at the Legion as part its Veterans Day activities.

The honorees were: Melzer, Commander’s Award; Hershall Lee, Lifetime Achievement Award : Kevin Cullen, certificate of appreciation; and Victor Tarquini, Legionnaire of the Year Award.

“J ust came to eat chili,” Melzer said afterward, expressing his surprise at the honor.

The Commander’s Award is given to a person, group or establishment for services to the post. In presenting the award to Melzer, Commander Frank Atwood praised him for always being available to help, whether physically or financially.

Melzer, 83, a Korean War vet, served in the Army from 1950-53 as a private first class. He was awarded three bronze stars, three battle stars and other medals.

Lee said of Melzer, “He’s very supportive and is always there to donate time and effort. That’s a big help to the Legion.” He was accompanied by his wife, Helen, and other family members.

Lee, a Korean War vet, was presented the Lifetime Achievement Award, which goes to an outstanding person who has gone beyond the norm in terms of service on the local, state and national level.

Atwood said Lee does numerous duties, including making sure pictures and history of the Legion get stored. “Anytime I need something done, he says he’ll do it,” Atwood said.

Lee served in the Air Force, and recently received the Air Force Salutes Award, and has won numerous other awards. He is one of the founders of the Illinois Korean War Veterans Association.

Tarquini, also a Korean War vet, was presented the Legionnaire Award, which is given to a person for outstanding performance within the post and the community.

He served with the Air Force from 1948-55, including in Korea from 1950-51. After leaving the service as a staff sergeant, he worked 30 years at Chanute Air Force Base.

Tarquini, who was unable to attend the ceremony, said of the award, “I’m completely in awe.” He tries to help out as much as he can around the Legion, and calls bingo, among other duties.

Cullen of Lafayette, Ind., a former reporter with the Commercial-News who now writes a weekly column, was given a certificate for all of his hard work. He has written columns about veterans and also wrote a history of the Legion, which has been made into a pamphlet.

The certificate honors him for “outstanding service and assistance which contributed to the advancement of the American Legion programs and activities.”

With Veterans Day falling on Sunday, Atwood noted that the churches did “an excellent job making sure veterans are honored.” By holding its chili dinner/awards program on Monday, he said, veterans from the Veterans Affairs Illiana Health Care System were able to attend.

At the ceremony/dinner Monday, students from Schlarman Academy helped out.

 Lee passed away recently. See Mary Wicoff’s story about him on page 59.
Veterans tend to make long-lasting friendships that last well beyond their terms of service—and their lives. They often visit departed friends’ graves, create scholarships in their names, write moving tributes, or recognize them in other ways. Here are a couple examples of such tributes.

Raymond A. Waldron

Paul O’Keefe, the chaplain of CID 60, Adirondack [NY] and the KWVA Department of New York, was visiting the grave of his recently deceased friend, Raymond A. Waldron, at Gerald Solomon National Cemetery in Saratoga, NY on Veterans Day 2012 when a lady took the nearby photo. Waldron was a former commander of the chapter.

As O’Keefe recalls, “Not knowing that either of us was in the service of our country, we were surprised to meet one another in Korea in 1952. Ray was with the 21st Infantry Division. I was with the 24th.”

O’Keefe also noted that he was honored to see “our very busy National President Jim Ferris attend Ray’s viewing.” What else can we expect from veterans who observe the bonds of friendship—during and after they have completed their enlistments on earth and beyond.

Reach Paul O’Keefe at 160 S. Linden Ave., Mechanicville, NY 12118, IPokdU@yahoo.com

Jouett A. Beverly

Former Associate Member Jouett A. (“Buster”) Beverly passed away on October 3, 2012. He was not a veteran, but he was a great friend of the association.

Beverly was a trucker based in Amarillo, TX who had a tribute to Korean War and other veterans placed prominently on the sides of his trucks, which were plainly visible as he drove across the country. (We featured Mr. Beverly in the March/April 2009 edition, p. 76, “Lone Star State Trucker Takes Heart-Felt Message To Vets.”)

Beverly noted in that article that he was “Born a cripple. Both my feet are severely clubbed. I wasn’t eligible for military duty, but that didn’t keep me from trying to enlist. I tried three different times and they wouldn’t take me.” He chose to serve in other ways—one of which was to pay tribute on his vehicles to veterans.

This is the last story he sent to The Graybeards:

This was told to me by my sister, Grace, from her memory of what Don [Woods] told her.

Don and Grace Woods were married in July 1951. Don went to Korea during the early part of the war. He was in a group in North Korea that was surrounded by the Chinese. When he was in South Korea he drove a gasoline truck without brakes up and down the mountains and only was able to control the truck by shifting gears. His group slept out in the open in sleeping bags and he said he would wake up and be covered with snow. He was in Korea for 13 months.

Don said they could not get the supplies they needed. After Korea, Don went to Germany. For the first five years they were married they were together one year.

When I was driving my truck there were so many times when I was stopped any length of time that somebody would look at my trailer with all the history of our country on it and they would tell me about the terrible time their loved ones had over in Korea and sometimes they would tell me also about their loved ones freezing to death over there.

Last year, on 11/12/11, I was in Dublin TX. The civics teacher saw my truck parked at a business and asked me to bring it to the high school as a show and tell kind of thing. The teacher had been teaching about our country in government class. When the students came out and saw my truck it put a face to everything the teacher had been trying to teach the 11th and 12th grades.

No one in that class knew what Korea was about until I told them that my brother-in-law, Don Woods, had been in Korea for 13 months.

Before my lungs went bad and I had to stop driving, I was planning to go to a lot of high schools and let them see my truck and tell them about the history of our country, Korea, Vietnam, etc.. Unfortunately I can’t do that anymore.

I was in the process of honoring the...
Sung Kun Pak

When we served in Korea in the 1950-1953 era, we were aware of how the native Koreans lived, but we seldom got to know any of them personally. During this war, the 65th Infantry Regiment was assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division. This unit was a Puerto Rican regiment, and the language spoken early in its deployment was predominantly Spanish.

Sung Kun Pak, as a Korean civilian, was assigned to be an interpreter with the 65th Infantry Regiment for an extended period of time during the Korean War. His languages were Korean, English and Spanish.

Mr. Pak came to the U.S., married Janet, and worked as a Chemical Engineer for Allied Chemical in the Richmond, Virginia area until he retired. He was also a founding elder with the Richmond Korean Presbyterian Church.

When Chapter 143 was formed, Mr. Pak became an associate member and was the active liaison between the chapter and the church, where the chapter has always regularly met. He and I always greeted each other with, “Como Esta?”

Sung Kun Pak had suffered with Parkinson’s Disease for the last few years and passed away at age 84 on 9 December 2012. We have all lost a really good friend!

Hershall Lee

Hershall was remembered in the local Danville [IL] Commercial-News after his death. Apparently, he made a major impression on reporters in his home area, one of whom, Mary Wicoff, wrote the article below to remember Lee. (The article is published here with the paper’s permission.) A second writer, columnist Kevin Cullen, also wrote a commemorative piece about Lee for the paper.

She noted on a personal level that, “I’m going to miss Hershall; I don’t know if anyone else will contact the newspaper about veterans’ activities (not as much as he did, anyway). Thanks for publicizing things for him. I think we both made him happy. He loved publicity! He would enjoy all this attention!”

Veterans recall Lee’s dedication

By Mary Wicoff
mwicoff@dancomnews.com

DANVILLE — Hershall E. Lee was fond of saying, “When asking or doing something, expect results, not a miracle.”

With his dedication and determination, Lee expected results when promoting Korean War veterans and other military people — and often got them.

Lee, 81, died Monday morning at the Veterans Affairs Illiana Health Care System.

“Without Hershall, there wouldn’t be much of a remembrance for Korean War veterans,” fellow veteran Ray Nasser said Monday.

“He was basically responsible for getting the first chapter (of the Illinois Korean War Veterans Association) organized in Danville. He was the one who pushed others to get the chapter going.”

Lee, Marylon Palmer and Howard Varner formed the chapter in 1987, naming it after the first local person to die in the Korean War — Marine Robert E. Wurtsbaugh of Danville, a childhood friend of Lee’s.

In the early 1990s, the chapter was the largest in the United States, Nasser said, adding, “That’s to Hershall’s credit because of his pushing people to become members.”

Lee, who served in the Fifth Air Force out of Seoul in 1952-53, was the first president of the state association and was national director from 1988-91.

He also was proud of his license plate with a No. 1 — the first issued to honor Korean War veterans. Then-state Rep. Bill Black sponsored the plates in 1993 after Lee brought the idea to him.

Nasser said the Korean War plates led to other special plates for veterans.

Lee pushed for other memorials to honor those who served in the war from 1950-53, including the bridge that crosses Ellsworth Park — the Illinois Korean War Memorial Bridge. It was the first memorial in the state to honor Korean War veterans.

In addition, he initiated naming of the Illinois Korean War Memorial Highway — Illinois Route 1 from Chicago to Cave in Rock — which Black sponsored. He also arranged for installation of the Curtis G. Redden plaque at Redden Square in 2006.

Lee has received numerous awards for his dedication to veterans’ issues.

Earlier this year, he received the Air Force Salutes Award, on behalf of the 347th Recruiting Squadron, in recognition of his dedication in communicating the Air Force’s message of service to country to local youth.

Last month, Lee, a past commander, was presented the Lifetime Achievement Award by the Curtis G. Redden American Legion Post 210.

The award goes to an outstanding person who has gone beyond the norm in terms of service on the local, state and national level.

Bud Hinrichs, finance officer with Post 210, helped Lee with projects at the post, including compiling the history. Considering all that Lee did for the community, it’s going to be hard to replace him, he said.

“Hershall did a lot of work for armed services people,” Hinrichs said. “He dedicated his services to them. It’s going to be hard to get somebody to follow his shoes.”

Hinrichs, a Vietnam veteran, added, “He was a good friend.”

Legion members will form an honor guard at the visitation and perform military rites at the funeral.

Frank Atwood, post commander, credited Lee with drawing attention to veterans’ issues, not just those affecting Korean War vets.

“Everything he did had something to do with the veterans, something to be proud of,” he said. “He was there to show what the veteran stood for and that they should be honored.”

Lee also made sure the 60th anniversary of the Korean War was recognized, and donated items for a display at the Danville Public Library. He was named a Department of Defense ambassador for the anniversary, 2010-13.

In addition, he served on the committee that established the Korean/Vietnam memorial on Hazel Street, which was dedicated in 1986.

After that, he joined a group supporting a national monument. He also helped bring in the airplane that sits near Gilbert and Main streets from Chanute Air Force base.

Lee was trustee with the Illinois Korean Memorial Association, based in Springfield.

Besides caring about veterans’ issues, Lee also was founder of the Fairchild Grade School Cornerstone Project and established the school’s annual reunions. He was a graduate of Eastern Illinois University.

Lee spent most of his working years in the field of supervision and management for Allied Signal.

Hill 395 - The Pride Of The ROK Army

Coming across some of my Korean war photos, I spotted the nearby photo of me standing on a mountain ridge in September 1952. The location is the Chorwon area, approximately 20 to 25 miles north of the 38th parallel on line Wyoming. I am facing north, looking across a wide valley at Hill 395, which has a fairly smooth ridge line.

The hill is held by units of the ROK 9th Infantry Division. The camera with which the photo was taken is looking south at the flatlands of the abandoned community of Chorwon. In the coming month, during the first week of October, the Chinese army will make a major thrust to capture Chorwon. A fierce, bloody nine-day battle will take place on that mountain, primarily involving the ROK 9th Infantry Division, aided on the left flank by the U.S. 7th Infantry Regiment, plus artillery and other support units from the U.S. 3rd Infantry Division and the U.S. Air Force.

The ROK 9th Infantry Division suffered nearly 3,500 casualties. The estimate for the Chinese army was over 10,000 dead. Due to the heavy coating of sulfur and other explosives from bombs, rockets, artillery, etc., that covered the surface of the ridge line of the mountain, it resembled a white horse lying on its side. were There Enemy Female Combatants In The Korean War?

Did the North Koreans and/or the Chinese utilize female combatants during the Korean War? If so, were they effective fighters? Was there a way for UN troops to distinguish them from male troops? Please send any information regarding the presence of female North Korean or Chinese troops to GB Gender Editor, 895 Ribaut Rd. #13, Beaufort, SC 29902.

Turn To Busan

When the KWVA Wreath Presentation Ceremony was held on Veterans Day, President Ferris spoke to all present. National Ceremonies Chairman Tom McHugh then explained that the “Turn To Busan” is to honor all who died in Korea. Originally, 30,000 Americans were buried there. All Americans have been returned home for burial.

The Wall at Busan has the names of all who died or are still missing.

At that time Director McHugh requested all present to face east, look out over the Reflecting Pond to “Turn To Busan,” and have a moment of silence.

It was meaningful and reverent and enhanced the ceremony. We will “Turn To Busan” at every Wreath Ceremony in the future. All chapters are requested to include a “Turn To Busan” at local ceremonies in the future.

“Special Forces” in Korea?

There were U.S. Army Special Operations units operating in North Korea during the Korean War. Since U.S. Army policy does not recognize the combat history (Honors and Lineage) of these provisional/temporary units, known today as Special Forces, very little information is available today about these Korean War veterans.

We would like to hear from any of our readers who can share information on this subject. Here are some of the units: 8086 (8th Army); 8213 (8th Army, later Airborne); 8227 (X Corps Raiders); 8240 (Liaison Det.); 8241(Jack - CIA); 8242 (CCRAK), and other Raider units.

Please send any info you have regarding these units to Arthur G. Sharp, The Graybeards, 895 Ribaut Rd. #13, Beaufort, SC 29902.

A Hug And A Poignant Good-bye

As I was thinking back about some of my experiences during the Korean War, one of the most poignant ones happened while I was sitting on a bus taking us to Ft. Lawton to board the Gen. R. L. Howze. This was in February of 1953.

The incident involved another young soldier (weren’t we all?). I never knew his name, and to the best of my knowledge I never saw him again. The only reason this stuck in my mind was probably the fact that I grew up without a dad and I saw his dad kneeling beside him a couple of rows back from where I was sitting and talking to him in very hushed tones.

His mother was not with them. It may have been that his mother didn’t want to see him going off to war. I don’t know if this dad was from Washington State or not. With all the unknowns, I don’t even know where this soldier ended up. This dad hugged his son and had damp eyes as he left the bus.

I had often wondered if he ended up in the war, and if did whether he ever made it home. If one of your readers can recognize himself as this soldier, I would like to hear from him at kjenks@amnix.com so I can close another chapter in my Korean War experiences.

Book Review – “Give Me Tomorrow”

George Company did not “fight their way from the Chosin Reservoir toward Hagaru-ri.” Rather, Task Force Drysdale [consisting of G/3/1; 41 Independent Commando, British Royal Marines; and Company B, 31st Infantry, 7th Infantry Division] had been ordered to fight its way from Koto-ri northwest to Hagaru-ri [approximately 11 miles] on 29 Nov 1950.

Background Information

3/1 had earlier been assigned the defense of Hagaru-ri by Col “Chesty” Puller, but George Company had been left at Koto-ri because of a lack of transportation. Task Force Drysdale, midway to Hagaru-ri, at what was to be called “Hell Fire Valley,” became involved in furious fire fights with numerically superior Chinese forces on the high ground of each side of the valley before arriving at Hagaru-ri after darkness of 29 Nov.

On the morning of 30 Nov, George Company was tasked to take and hold a portion of East Hill – high ground overlooking the air strip and the “road” [the main supply route – MSR] from Koto-ri, through Hagaru-ri to Yudam-ni, from where the 5th and 7th Marine Regiments [previously ordered by Gen McArthur to advance to the Yalu River, but had been attacked by superior numbers of Chinese that had crossed the Yalu in secrecy and were attacking across the entire 8th Army area] were “attacking in another direction” in order to consolidate the 1st Maine Division at Hagaru-ri, from which would begin the fight to the sea – to Hungnam where ships awaited to evacuate the Division and more than 90,000 refugees.
On the night of 30 Nov, East Hill was attacked by more than 2 Chinese regiments – one hitting the defenses of George Company, ultimately resulting in hand-to-hand combat and heavy casualties on both sides. George Company, reinforced by 41 Commando Royal Marines, retook and held its assigned area on East Hill.

Had not East Hill been held, the air strip into which supplies had been flown and from which wounded soldiers and Marines were evacuated would have been in extreme jeopardy and the return of the 5th and 7th Marines from Yudam-ni would likewise have been in jeopardy.

The accomplishments of George Company, and those of 41 Independent Commando, Royal Marines, without which the outcome of the Korean War would have been drastically altered, have been officially recognized.

David Douglas Duncan Took The Photo
I was disappointed when reading the review of Give Me Tomorrow, Nov.-Dec. 2012, p. 63, that the reviewer did not identify the “photojournalist” who took the cover picture. The photo was shot by David Douglas Duncan, a WWII Marine photographer, who accompanied the Marines in Korea. It appears in his book “This is War.”

A Letter To “Beetle Bailey”
Mr. Walker:
The coincidence of your Beetle Bailey beginning in 1950 and the onset of the Korean War makes Beetle a veteran of that war, albeit perhaps not so known as such.

July 27, 2013 marks the 60th Anniversary of the Cease Fire of that war, but not a peace treaty. We are still in a state of war, though unacknowledged as such by the Congress until 1997. The war seems dormant but, at times since July 1953, flare ups have produced American and South Korean casualties.

Few, if any, Americans know of this and even fewer seem to care—the Forgotten War remains unknown as do the almost 36,000 killed in action and 103,000 wounded! Per month for 35 months almost 1,000 killed and 3,000 wounded—America’s bloodiest foreign war in terms of percentage of casualties—one in nine in Korea versus one in twelve in WWII.

Korean culture honors a 60th anniversary as a rebirth—those of us who carry the torch for Korean War fallen and surviving veterans are hoping to remind America of what its soldiers did in Korea on our 60th. Just as we fought WWII to save the world for democracy, so did we fight the Korean War to save the world from communism!

Would you consider a Beetle Bailey acknowledgment of his existence during the Korean War and the 60th Anniversary of a tenuous cease fire? It would be of inestimable assistance to help us remind America of these Forgotten Warriors!

Thank you for your consideration and for over 60 years of Beetle Bailey!

No longer The Forgotten War!

More About Medals

John Gavel’s article about medals in the Nov/Dec 2012 edition received a tremendous response. We will print a couple of email exchanges between Gavel and people who responded to his article, starting with an expansion from Mr. Gavel re the Navy “E.”

The night after Christmas the phone rang at 9:30 p.m. My wife slept through it, and I was otherwise detained. The message left, accidentally erased, concerned my article and the Navy “E” ribbon.

I gave the “E” little coverage in the article since Korean War vets would not have received it. “E” awards of several types, including the Army-Navy “E” awarded to defense plants in WWII, have been around for decades. Many, like the red “E” for engineering department excellence, are not Battle “Es.”

Apparently, there are a number of Navy vets who got the arm patch or had to paint an “E” on the funnel who feel that they should have gotten the ribbon. I can see their point, but the Navy decided that only awards made after July 1, 1974 would retroactively receive the ribbon. So, here is a little more information on the Navy “E.”

The Battle Efficiency Ribbon, Navy “E” Ribbon, or (informally) the Battle “E” ribbon, was established in July 1976. The Navy “E” Ribbon denotes permanent duty on ships, squadrons, or units (including construction battalions) that have won a battle efficiency competition (Battle “E”) after July 1, 1974. This ribbon replaces the “E” patch previously sewn on the right sleeve of the uniform. Marine Corps personnel assigned as ship’s company are eligible; embarked personnel are not.

The Navy “E” is one of the very few Naval service awards that does not have a corresponding medal, meaning that for personnel in full dress (when medals are worn), the Navy “E” is placed above the right breast pocket of the uniform instead of the left. However, when personnel wear the standard uniform (no medals are worn), the ribbon is placed above the left breast pocket, along with all other citations and awards.

For each award of the Navy “E” Ribbon, one Battle “E” device is authorized for wear on the Navy “E” ribbon, up to the third award. When a service member receives a fourth Navy “E” award, a Wreathed Battle “E” device is bestowed. This replaces the first three devices and effectively “closes out” the award ribbon. No further devices are authorized for display of additional awards.

While service members may receive more than four Navy “E”s, only four may be displayed.

A Member Writes To John Gavel

Your article, “Recognition Accorded to Units by the U.S. Military” in The Graybeards, Nov-Dec 2012 stimulated me to make addition additional efforts to solve a personal problem I have with awards.

I served in Korea from March 1952 to April 1953 with the First and Second Platoons, A Battery, 145th AA-AW Anti Aircraft Bn, 45th Infantry Division. My DD-214 has a list of various medals/commendations etc., which includes the “Distinguished Unit Citation” (Presidential Unit Citation/PUC ). I vaguely recall being told about the submission or issuance of the award while still in Korea for my unit’s support of one of the infantry battalions during the summer of 1952. The National Archives was unable to provide information about how to obtain the document.

Subsequently, I requested information about the award from the 45th Infantry Museum, which informed me that their records show that my platoon was awarded the “Meritorious Unit Commendation” (MUC), and not the PUC under DA GO 21 1953 for actions on 13-15 June 1952. The respondent had no information about the actual text of the citation for the award. However, I noticed from the information museum supplied to me that the 180th Infantry Regiment, 45th Infantry Division was awarded the PUC under DA GO 21 1953 for the same date my platoon had received the MEC. Perhaps the museum’s records are not entirely correct or my DD form 214 is incorrect.

I would like to clarify the records, if possible, and jog my memory about what my unit did in combat to deserve the award. Can you tell me how or where I can get a copy of DA GO 21 1953 and the actual text of the citation for the awards for both units? I already checked the online sites you mentioned in your article, but found records for awards made only for later dates. Any help or advice you can provide would be most welcome and, hopefully, direct me in the right direction.

Ehard F. Nutting, 6361 Avington Pl., Gainesville, VA 20155, efnutting@comcast.net

Gavel’s Response

Good news! The attached General Order shows that the 1st Plt, Co A, 145 AA-AW Bn 45ID did receive the DUC/PUC. It is the same ribbon as I recall. Seldom are DD 214s wrong. Both the DUC and MUC were awarded in that GO. You can see all the Ordinance and MPs that got it following your Section I award in Section II.

If you want to independently confirm or have a website to share, http://armypubs.army.mil/epubs/DA_General_Orders_ 1953.html gets you there. You can look up other years also. The text of the citation is incorporated in the GO.

Many other service awards have not been preserved as well. I am happy that the Army has done such a great job. I had the honor to serve with a Marine Corps and an Air Force Medal of Honor recipient and they both felt that they were just doing what needed to be done. Those that follow us need to have that attitude, as I feel that many more of us would have won high valor awards if the situation had presented itself.

Veterans too often have the attitude that they got the recognition that they deserved. Had the events in your GO occurred in WWII, every soldier in the Infantry Regiment would have automatically qualified for the Bronze Star by virtue of award of the Combat Infantry Badge.

In Korea, you were in the hands of your senior NCOs, officers to be recommended (that article is also submitted). Based on my personal experience during the Vietnam war, at least 20% of a unit should have gotten a decoration for winning a MUC...winning a PUC would call for practically all getting something. The problem for the Korean War is that something should have been the Commendation medal which didn’t exist until later. It’s an imperfect world, but if we cannot make it perfect, we should at least try to make it better.

A lot of vets feel that according recognition diminishes theirs. This can unfortunately be true. The Coast Guard awarded all units supporting Hurricane Katrina operations their PUC. Remember Line Backer II? B-52s go north and end the Vietnam war. No B-52 unit (and only one other Air Force unit maybe) got the PUC for it. There are lots of cases where recognition fell short. For Korean vets, this includes before and after the armistice. In any event, glad to have been of service!

The Korean War - A “Forgotten Victory”!

I was a teenager at the end of WWII and remember how proud we were as the soldiers returned home victorious and paraded down the center of Manhattan, New York. In 1951, I was a Marine Corps PFC, a wounded combat veteran of three of the most ferocious battles in the war, to include the “Chosin” Reservoir.

Rather than a parade, we returned to San Diego by troopship, were bused to Camp Pendleton, and sent home on leave. Stationed at the Marine Barracks, Naval Supply Depot, Scotia, New York, my fellow veterans and I remember being rejected for membership in the VFW because, “Korea was not a war, it was a police action!” This was subsequently rectified, but not before thousands of us felt “forgotten” by the very country that had sent us to fight in a foreign land that most had never even heard of! Many Korean War veterans still carry the scars of this early rejection.

Thus, it was with great pride I read Steve Vogel’s Washington Post article in the Tuesday, 1 January 2013 issue on the Korean War in general, and one of our greatest heroes of that war, Medal of Honor recipient Hiroshi “Hershey” Miyamura. I can’t describe the pleasure of knowing that we [had] our very own “Float” in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, California.

We thank you for taking the time to remember us old veterans at the beginning of our 60th Anniversary of the Armistice signing on 27 July 1953. We can now proudly say: “Forgotten no more”!

Differences Between Chinese And North Koreans

We asked in the Nov/Dec 2012 edition for readers’ comments on the differences between North Korean and Chinese soldiers’ traits. Here is one response.

Little Difference

I was in Korea from August 1950 to December 1951 as a radio operator attached to the 24th Division. I was a Forward Observer, and my assignment was to direct fighter planes in for close air support. I did not see a lot differences between the North Korean and Chinese armies.

The North Korean Army was well trained and rough on prisoners. The Chinese Army liked to make a lot of noise with bugles, horns, and anything else they could find. They liked to overrun our positions with a large number of troops, e.g. as they did in the “Battle of Death Valley.” The Chinese were crawling over their own dead so they could get at us.

As I learned, Chinese soldiers were told that if they died on the battlefield they would go straight to heaven. We sent as many there as we could.

Differences aside, I would not wish combat on anyone.

Who Was Wilfred Burchett?

We asked in the Nov/Dec 2012 issue if anyone remembered Wilfred Burchett. (See “Recon,” p. 24.) Here is the response (so far).

I was a POW during the Korean War, and I met Wilfred Burchett one time. When the North Koreans were taking us north to turn us over to the Chinese we stopped for the second night on the road in a town.

Shortly after our arrival in this town, a couple guards took me to another house. When they slid the paper door open, I saw a Caucasian man sitting behind a desk. My first thought was that this was a Russian and that I was really in for a bad time. When he started talking, I immediately knew that he was either English or Australian.

He introduced himself as Wilfred Burchett and explained that he was a correspondent with the Australian Daily Worker newspaper. (The communists call all of their newspapers the Daily Worker.) I had heard of him while serving on the front lines.

He questioned me about my family. He wanted names and addresses of my family back in the states. I knew that there was a rather sizable communist party in New York, so I gave him fictitious first names and fictitious addresses. I didn’t want them bothering my family while I was in their grasp. To the very best of my memory, this is all that he questioned me about.

So, in a nutshell, Wilfred Burchett was a correspondent for the communist newspapers in Australia.

Kenneth H. Hanson, 9401 Lyndale Ave S #228, Bloomington, MN 55420, 952-888-2703, powra17313465@netzero.net (Mr. Hanson is the former National Commander of the American Ex-Prisoners of War.)

Two Was The Loneliest Number

I was stationed as a stenographer at the Truce Talks in Panmunjom in 1952-53, and it was at that time that I was aware of Wilfred Burchett and his colleague Allen Winnington, a British correspondent. Mr. Burchett was Australian though he apparently worked for a left-leaning publication in France. It might have been L’Humanite.
Burchett and Winnington were the only two Caucasian reporters who traveled with the communist delegation. They apparently lived in Kaesong, the base camp of the North Korean/Chinese group. Frankly, they always appeared to be just a trifle lonely.

They attended the daily PIO briefings held by United Nations’ personnel, but generally stood on the periphery and were virtually ignored by the press from the free world. I believe Burchett went on from Korea to become a regular correspondent during the conflict in Vietnam.

The Unholy Three

There was an “Unholy Three” that included Burchett. Besides him, there were Monica Felton and another member whose name escapes me at the moment. They were supposedly correspondents for papers in England and Australia. (They wrote for a communist press and from a communist view.)

I saw all three once as they walked down the main street of our POW Camp 3 at Chang Song. According to the British Sergeants, some Brits were interrogated by the trio.

Monica Felton wrote an article in the Manchester Guardian telling people how millet was a very tasty dish with a little butter and salt. Of course, we didn’t have any.

Fred M. Liddell is a Past President of the Korean War Ex-POW Association. He was also at POW Camp 4, Wirwon. Reach him at 1933 Lee Rd. 100, Opelica, AL 36804, 334-741-8591, or 503-314-1413.

Does Anyone At K-2 Remember This Incident?

In November or December 1950, I was stationed with the 49th Fighter-Bomber Wing Supply Squad at K-2 Airfield outside Taegu, Korea. We were erecting several tents to be used for parts and equipment along the flight line.

The mechanics and crew chiefs could bring up a part and exchange it for a new one. There were several of us, along with some Korean laborers, building shelves in the tents that were to be used to store the parts. We were in one of the tents during lunch break.

As we were eating, we heard a loud explosion. We went out to see what it was. Several people were running toward us as we saw the damage. We asked them what had happened. They explained that a 5-inch rocket had fired accidentally from one of the F-80 jet fighters.

Luckily for us, there was a large truck parked in front of the tents. It took the brunt of the explosion and blocked any shrapnel from entering the tents. But, one of our guys was peppered by tiny pieces of metal that missed the truck.

I was attending to the injured man and putting him into a weapons carrier to take him to a hospital on the base. As I was doing this, the flight surgeon and a few other men came and took him. I have often wondered what happened to the wounded man.

When I think back I realize that the Lord was with us. If that truck had not been parked where it was, that rocket would have hit the tent with full force. Most of us would have been killed or injured.

If any of our readers were at K-2 at the time and remember the incident, I would like to hear from you.

It Was Operation Big Switch

In answer to your request for information about the photos in the article “Operation Big Switch” on page 58 of the Nov/Dec. 2012 edition: I was on the USS Winston (AKA 94), which participated in Operation Big Switch at the same time the photos were apparently taken.

Our ship’s log showed that we transported POWs from Koje-do to Inchon. So I presume that the pictures are from the same time and place.

John A. Butler, 401 East Kerr Street, Burnet, TX 78611, candjb78611@yahoo.com

USS Winston Was Not Alone

As memory serves me after all these years, there was a bunch of ships and “big boats” used in the repatriation of Chinese and North Korean prisoners.

We were on our way home aboard USS Seminole (AKA 104) after a six-month tour in Korea. We turned around just outside Subic Bay-Manila in the Philippines to return to Sasebo for the Army Corps of Engineers to build five cages down in our holds in which to transport prisoners. We carried 1,800 prisoners per “lift” (the term we used for trip), with 100 “doggie” guards.

We made at least 3 or 4 lifts, although I believe we made 5, 3 for North Koreans and 2 for Chinese. (The Chinese were more or less model prisoners compared to the North Koreans, who were “bad asses” all the time.) We would pick up prisoners at Koje-do and Chichi-do Islands in the southeast corner of Korea and take them to Inchon. We’d drop them off there and go back to pick up some more. Those holds were stink holes and utter messes, but they worked well for what we had to do. We may have had communist POWs at other locations, but Koje-do and Chichi-do were the only two places we dealt with.

I don’t recall the USS Matthews (AKA 96), but that doesn’t mean anything. There were a bunch of AKAs involved in the repatriation effort—or whatever it was called. We were just mad because instead of being in San Diego, we were stuck transporting those prisoners. We didn’t get home until twelve days before we had been out of the continental limits of the U.S. for one year. That was unheard of since WWII. The ship needed dry dock and the crew needed leave.

Editor’s Note: According to an entry in the Dictionary of American Naval Fighting Ships, “Seminole continued her operations in Japanese and Korean waters well after the signing of the truce on 27 July 1953. From 28 July to 12 September, she ferried almost 10,000 North Korean and Chinese POW’s in Operation “Big Switch” from Koje Do to Inchon. On 22 September, she departed Asian waters and arrived at San Diego on Columbus Day 1953.”

Who Was Susan Kee?

There was a short article in the “Thanks” section of the Nov/Dec 2012 issue submitted by Susan Kee, who had participated in a Phoenix, AZ Veterans Day Parade. Here is a little more info about her provided by Lew Bradley of CID 222, Arden A. Rowley [AZ].

Susan has visited every KWVA chapter in the Phoenix and Tucson areas. She is a shining light to us. She was a guest speaker at our monthly meeting in March 2012.

Susan was born in Seoul, Korea and moved to the U.S. with her parents when she was nine years old. Her parents were teenagers during the Korean War. But, had it not been for our service and sacrifice during that war, South Korea would have disappeared and its citizens would be living in the scariest and most oppressive country in the world—and she would not be here to support KWVA chapters today.

That is why Susan, along with millions of other Koreans around the world, is forever grateful. The fact that South Korea exists today is testimony to what we veterans helped accomplish some sixty years ago.

Thanks From A Book Club

Happy New Year to you and all Korean War Veterans!

My name is YouNa An. Was the Korean War worth it?

Korean War veterans protected South Korea from totalitarian communism and prevented it from spreading to the rest of the world. South Korea now has a thriving economy. Also importantly, since the Korean War was halted without subjecting North Korea under democracy, still-divided country is suffering from the issues such as threatened peace and divided families, which I strongly feel that we young generations must work to resolve.

However, not only most Americans but also many young Koreans don’t know much about the achievements and limits of the Korean War. The natural result of such unawareness is, for example, that the Wall of Remembrance in the Korean War Memorial in Washington, D.C. is yet to be established.

Unlike the Vietnam War veterans, as many as 54,246 U.S. veterans who were killed in the Korean War are not remembered with due honor. So, last year, with my friends at high school and middle school, I petitioned for the bill for the Wall of Remembrance (HR 2563) to be enacted so that all the individual names of the veterans can be listed and honored in the Wall of Remembrance. Also, I organized volunteers for the banquet honoring Korean War veterans on July 27th, 2012 at the Sheraton Pentagon City Hotel in Arlington, Virginia, which was hosted by the Korean government.

For me, studying the Korean War and engaging in related activities proved to be an excellent way to contribute and help raise awareness of the war and its legacy. I will continue my effort until the reunification of Korea, which was once the goal of Korean War veterans. I would like to once again thank the veterans who saved Korea and helped us learn about the Korean War.

We Did Not Lose The Pork Chop Battle

I thank Paul Varnes for correcting the Charles Douglas statement on p. 18 of the May-June 2012 edition, “Korea Remembered, 60 Years Later: A Soldier’s Story,” in which he said we lost the Pork Chop battle in July 1953. (See Varnes’ comments in “Reflections On Pork Chop Hill,” pp. 64-65, in the “Feedback” section of the Sept.-Oct 2012 issue.) This statement failed to honor the valiant Soldiers who won a battle that probably influenced our enemy to sign the truce because they could not win it.

I was in H Co. of the 17th Inf. Regt., 7th Div. I directed our 81mm. mortar fire for the last two battles on Pork Chop. As Paul Varnes said, “The battle for Pork Chop Hill is credited as being the heaviest artillery bombardments of all military history.”

We were located just down the hill from our MLR behind Pork Chop. During the last battle I was in contact with our forward observer (FO), who was on Pork Chop until the enemy retreated. Our radio operator, John Phillips, of Pensacola, FL, who was also on Pork Chop, maintained contact with us through his PRC 10 radio. At one time, our battalion lost all communication on Pork Chop except ours, and they ran the battle from our Fire Direction Center.

An interesting side note is that after the battle ended and Jon came back to our outfit, I thanked him for conserving the life of the battery by turning off the radio when not in use. He replied, “Are you kidding? I didn’t dare turn it off.”

Those batteries never lasted more than one day. That one lasted over three days. You figure it out!

My rank at the time was SFC. Since I was serving as an officer, I was later given a battlefield commission. Our brave battalion commander (Major Noble, I believe) was given the rank of LtCol because he actually went on Pork Chop to inspire the troops during the battle.

Pork Chop was won by great bravery and sacrifice, and the facts should be recorded properly.

Please mention findagrave.com as a research source. I am doing a virtual cemetery to list members of my father’s Army unit, Co H 27 IR 25 ID, while in Korean War. Anyone Burned By WP?

My father, Floyd D. Clough, served in the Korean War. He is searching for anyone burned with white phosphorous during the Korean War, World War II, Vietnam, Iraq or Afghanistan. He needs the information to substantiate that WP burns cause further problems as years go by. His contention is that neuropathy of the lower body, mainly hips, legs and feet, where he was burned by the white phosphorous, worsens problems. He needs corroborating information to further his claim with the VA. His problem is from the Korean War in May 1951 serving with Fox Company, 38th Infantry Division.

He is 84 and does not have a computer or email, which is why I am doing this for him. He would welcome hearing from those who are experiencing the same ill effects from the white phosphorous burns that he has been experiencing. His address is 5342 Brookwood Drive NW, Canton, OH 44708. His home phone is 330-478-2806.

My Dad lives in Canton, Ohio and I live in Trinity, FL. It breaks my heart to see the suffering my Dad has gone through because of this white phosphorous.

Does anyone remember Cpl Robert Millard Henry?

Cpl Robert Henry was a machine gunner with Co. I, 3rd Bn., 32nd Inf. Regt., 7th Inf. Div. He was listed as Missing in Action while fighting the enemy at “Pork Chop Hill,” North Korea on July 11, 1953. He was presumed dead on July 12, 1954.

Cpl. Henry’s sister is interested in talking with anyone who served with him in Korea who could possibly share any information regarding him and the circumstances surrounding his disappearance and his ultimately being declared Missing in Action.

If you have any information regarding Cpl. Robert Henry, please contact me and I will pass your name and contact information on to his sister.

Korean Minister of Patriots and Veterans Affairs

By C. Monika Stoy

Korean Minister of Patriots and Veterans Affairs, Minister Park, Sung Choon, honored United States Korean War veterans during the Congressional Medal of Honor Society annual convention in Honolulu, Hawaii, 3-5 October 2012. He met seven Korean War Congressional Medal of Honor recipients for breakfast on 3 October at the Hale Kola Armed Forces Recreation Center to thank them for their service in the Korean War and helping his country maintain its freedom in the face of North Korean and Chinese aggression.

During the breakfast, Minister Park, a retired 3-star ROK Army general, presented the 60th Anniversary of the Korean War commemorative medal to the Medal of Honor recipients who had not previously received the medal. Breakfast guests included Commander Thomas Hudner, USN; LTC Joe Jackson, USAF; COL Bud Day, USAF; SFC Ron Rosser, US Army; Duane Dewey, USMC; Hiroshi Miyamura, US Army; and Rodolfo Hernandez, US Army. Hudner, Rosser, Dewey, Miyamura, and Hernandez received their Medals of Honor for actions during the Korean War, while Day and Jackson received their Medals of Honor in their subsequent combat in the Vietnam War.

At the time of the convention there were 12 still-living Medal of Honor recipients from the Korean War. Five of them were present in Honolulu. As of today there are 11 still-living Medal of Honor recipients from the Korean War. Recipients not in Honolulu included Colonel Ola L. Mize, USA; Hector Cafferata, USMC; Einer Ingman, Jr., USA; Tibor Rubin, USA; Ernest West, USA and Robert Simanek, USMC.

It is not just Koreans living in their native country and the U.S. who continually express their appreciation for what UN troops did between 1950-53—and beyond. This note came from Mike Czuboka, the editor of the Rice Paddy, the Canadian Korean Veterans Association of Canada (L’Association Canadienne Des Vétéran De La Corée).

We enjoy a warm relationship with the Korean community in Winnipeg and Manitoba. For instance, the editor of the Korean Times recently presented our members with beautiful Korean-made quilts to show appreciation for our services in the Korean War.

Members of the Korean community frequently attend our functions. Kam-sah-ham-nee-dah!

Incidentally, KVA Unit 17 (Manitoba) is celebrating its 31st anniversary this year (1982 -2013). Congratulations from the U.S. KWVA.

dead cow tradition, and political corruption has become a top national issue in selecting the misguided and misperception of a “Mr. Clean Guy” in the Blue House.

As the depth of political corruption deepens, the moral and ethical sentiments in South Korean politics have surfaced to the front. The character issue became the main distinguishing point in the eradication of the deep-rooted political corruption of the December 19, 2012 election.

Manifesting the moral and conscience of the American founding father George Washington, the humility and justice, along with the equality of Abraham Lincoln, became a role model in the selection of the president among two candidates. Korean voters began to evaluate the country’s long history and realized that females had not been given a chance to rule the country for the past 1,115 years, since the rule of Queen Jinsung (AD 887-897) in the Shilla dynasty.

Voters made a right choice to empower a female candidate in distancing themselves from the traditional political corruption. Female candidate Ms. Park Geun-hye is a new era right wing candidate, while the opposition party candidate Moon Jae In is considered left-wing. Between the two candidates, Ms. Park Geun-hye is better positioned to narrow the gap between the wealthy and poor, mitigate deep rooted conflicts among different regions, promote higher economic growth than simply promising the welfare expenditure to protect small and medium industry, and impose higher taxes upon higher income groups, which is essential to maintain the economic prosperity that has been attained.

It is considered that this election was crucial to forward the pro-capitalist and anti-communist status, and it is obvious based on her election that president-elect Park is believed to maintain the stronger allied relationship with the United States.

Democracy and market oriented capitalism were at a crossroads in the December 2012 election. With high national debt and a global economic recession on the way, South Korea’s economic outlook is very dim and a new leadership with a vision of financial reform, along with more economic growth than rhetorical propaganda on more welfare expenditures, is desperately needed to navigate a more sustainable future for Korea in this pivotal election.

National security, continued economic growth, Lincoln-style consolidation power between the different regions, equitable distribution of income, and support for the middle class and small business are absolutely dependent upon President Park’s superior leadership. The December election was a crucial test of democracy and for the continued economic prosperity in Korea.

NOTE: The Global Mugughwa Forum was established by Chairman Park Jae Hong long ago to enhance Korean culture among Koreans living abroad, to give lectures on Korean history and vision, and to accommodate differing opinions among Koreans abroad to be reflected upon the formation of national policy agenda on politics, economy, and reunification policy.
